Both Mayors Agree

Bury Hatchet, Develop Island City, Nanaimo Leaders Urged

'California of Canada' Booster Drive Suggested

Victoria and Nanaimo should put away their shooting irons and make a joint effort to develop Vancouver Island, Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow said in Nanaimo last night. Mayors of the two cities heartily agreed.

"A joint committee should be set up between the two cities to further the interests of the Island as a whole," he proposed.

ATTRACT MORE

"We must attract more industry, more tourists and more of those thousands of individuals who retire each year in the eastern provinces.

"Victoria and Nanaimo should get together to sell the Island's greatest asset—its climate.

"Instead of fighting one another, north and south should combine as a single unit."

MAYOR SCURRAH

The idea was supported by Mayor Percy B. Scurrah, of Victoria, and Mayor Earle C. Westwood, of Nanaimo. "I think we should go ahead with it," said Mayor Scurrah.

GOOD FOR US

"It stands to reason that what is good for the Island is good for us," he said. "If population, industry and the tourist trade increase on the Island we'll get our share.

"That is why our publicity bureau has boosted the northern part of the Island consistently.

Said Mayor Westwood: "Such a plan is long overdue and we should welcome it wholeheartedly.

"We should band together in an all-out drive to boost the potentialities of the Island as a whole.

"Secondary industries would be of tremendous benefit to our Island, but to get them requires a united effort on the part of all Island communities."

Mayor Westwood suggested the first step in a joint effort could be taken through the Vancouver Island Municipalities Association in co-operation with representatives from chambers of commerce of all Island centres.

MAYOR WESTWOOD

"This part of B.C. is the California of Canada," he added, "but this fact is too little known in the east.

"I'm sure we in the upper part of the Island would join with Victoria in a campaign to advertise the Island as a whole."

Overwhelming Vote

Law Passed To Rearm Germany

BONN (AP) — The Bundestag Tuesday approved permanent legislation to rearm West Germany for the defence of Europe.

By an overwhelming vote on show of hands the lower house passed the "soldier's law" which will permit the fast buildup of a powerful Germany army, navy and air force.

Fourteen constitutional amendments intended to clamp firm civilian controls on the armed forces were passed by a vote of 390 to 20.

This mass of legislation now goes to the Bundesrat (upper house) for final parliamentary approval. The Bundesrat is expected to act March 16.

APPROVAL CERTAIN

Barring a major political upset, Bundesrat approval is considered certain.

Socialists joined Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's supporters in pushing through the amendments.

Deputies proclaimed that they would prevent the armed forces from again becoming a "state within a state," as they were called under the Weimar republic that preceded Hitler.

The "soldier's law" authorizes the government to recruit an elite cadre of 150,000 volunteers. They will form the backbone of the projected 500,000-man armed force.

Called "The Constitution of the German Soldier," the law also spells out the rights and duties of soldiers, sailors and airmen.

Earlier, the House shouted approval of 14 constitutional amendments clamping civilian controls on the armed forces to prevent a revival of militarism.

'Crime' Reduced

LEON TROTSKY

Meticulous revision of the history of communism in Russia has now reduced the crimes of Leon Trotsky from high treason to simple disagreement. Arch enemy of the late Joseph Stalin, he was assassinated in Mexico in 1940 where he had fled after being exiled for being such things as a "spy," a "traitor" and an "enemy of the people." The Academic Journal in Moscow now says simply that Trotsky was in "ideological conflict" with V. I. Lenin. Although the Journal did not cleanse Trotsky of the stigma of deviation from teachings of Marx and Lenin, it abstained from the normal method of denunciation.

Halifax Students' March Protests Weapon Shipment

HALIFAX (BUP)—A group of Jewish students from Dalhousie University staged a demonstration last night on the Halifax waterfront, protesting the shipment of arms to the Middle East.

The main objects of the demonstration were five large crates in a shed on Pier 20. The crates contained Harvard training planes assembled in Canada and destined for Egypt. The demonstration was an orderly one.

The student group of about 20 bore placards with slogans declaiming "Israel Is the Only Shipments to the Middle East," "Death to War," "End All Arms Shipments to the Middle East."

SONGS, DANCES

Some 15 of the students danced the "Hora," Israeli national dance, while the remainder circled the crates.

A spokesman for the group said the demonstration was a spontaneous one. He said the object was not so much to protest shipment of arms to Egypt but to stop the arms traffic from Canada to the Middle East and thereby prevent any aggressor making war.

The five crates are slated to be shipped on board the Egypt-bound freighter Wonogri.

The shipment of Harvards is the second from Halifax. The first, in mid-January, sparked a heated debate in the House of Commons over the whole question of arms shipments to the Middle East.

Princess Heads College

NEWCASTLE - UNDER - LYME, England (UP)—Princess Margaret has accepted a job as university president.

The court of governors of North Staffordshire University College announced the princess will be formally installed in the honorary post of president on June 28.

She succeeds the 91-year-old Earl of Harrowby.

Port Edward House Fire Kills Three

PORT EDWARD, B.C. (CP)—A 19-year-old youth and two small children were burned to death in a house fire in this north coast cannery village Tuesday night.

Dead are Edward Johnson and his sisters Barbara, 3, and Dixie, 14 months.

'Won't Send Arms'

OTTAWA (CP) — No Canadian arms will be shipped to the Middle East until the situation there eases, Prime Minister St. Laurent told the Commons Tuesday.

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, (PC—Esquimalt - Saanich) had asked whether the government would consider reimposing its ban on arms shipments to the Middle East.

Mr. St. Laurent said no arms are being shipped to that region at this time. Requests for arms would be considered but not acted upon until the Middle East situation improved.

In reply to a further question by Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglinton), the prime minister said the only application for arms now before the government is one from Israel for 25-pounder ammunition.

U.S. Got Alberta Babies

EDMONTON (CP) — Most Alberta-born children adopted last year by parents outside the province went to the United States.

This was revealed Tuesday in a report tabled in the Alberta legislature by Welfare Minister Jorgenson in reply to questions by W. J. C. Kirby (PC—Red Deer).

American foster parents last year adopted 38 of the 72 children adopted by persons outside the province. In 1954, the U.S. figure was 25 out of a total of 57 outside adoptions.

Other outside adoptions last year were: Yukon Territory, nine; Northwest Territories, seven; Ontario, seven; British Columbia, six; Saskatchewan, two, and one each to Manitoba, Quebec and Japan.

CNR, TCA Named

'Creeping Paralysis Of Socialism' Cited

OTTAWA (CP) — The publicly-owned Canadian National Railways and Trans-Canada Air Lines are bringing "the creeping paralysis of socialism to Canada," a Social Credit member said Tuesday in the Commons.

George Hahn, New Westminster, said TCA refuses to permit competition from privately-owned air services. The CNR was trying to put truckers out of business by its own trucking service carried "piggy back" on railway flatcars.

"We have there the creeping paralysis of socialism."

Mr. Hahn said an application by Pacific Western Airlines to run a cross-country air coach service had been denied because TCA knew it would lead to cheaper fares. Scandinavian Air Services flew a polar route to Europe, through Winnipeg, but travellers there were denied the right to use it.

"We are so gradually becoming conditioned to nationalization we shall be nationalized before we are aware of it."

Arab Leaders Meet

Arab-Israeli War Fever Rises; Ben-Gurion Blames U.S., Russia

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion declared Tuesday the danger of a second Arab-Israeli war has increased. He expressed confidence Israel would ultimately win any such test.

Against a shifting pattern of Middle East events, Ben-Gurion told his parliament the chances of preventing war "are somewhat smaller now" and, if bloodshed comes, the United States and Soviet Russia will share the moral responsibility.

It was his first statement since British Lt.-Gen. Sir John Glubb was removed last Thursday as the commander of Jordan's Arab Legion.

Government chiefs of Saudi Arabia, Syria and Egypt were meeting in an Arab summit conference in Cairo — and obviously hoping for a deal to bring Jordan's Arab Legion under their unified military command—as the man who led Israel through the war of 1948 delivered his sombre review.

Moral responsibility for a "second round" would fall on the Soviet government because of a continued flow of Red weapons to Egypt, Ben-Gurion said, and on the United States because of its continued refusal of its request for $30,000,000 worth of arms for Israel's defence.

Eden Calms Rebels

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden last night won a last-minute promise of support from Conservative party rebels for today's emergency parliamentary debate on Middle East policy.

He staved off a threatened revolt within his party by promising positive action in the troubled Middle East. He was assured full party backing at least until he completes consultations with the United States on how to meet the Middle East crisis.

Huge French Cement Firm Buys Texada Lime Quarry

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Lafarge organization of Paris, France, has purchased Beale Quarries, Ltd., on Texada Island, B.C., it was learned here Tuesday.

The quarry, about 120 miles northwest of here, was purchased from the Olympic Portland Cement Co. of London. It will be used to supply limestone to a proposed $12,500,000 cement plant which will be built by Lafarge in the Vancouver area. Lafarge—the full name is Societe Anonyme des Chaux et Ciments de Lafarge et Teil—is one of the world's largest producers of cement.

Site for the cement plant has not been disclosed, but business circles believe a 50-acre site on the south end of suburban Lulu Island has been set aside for this purpose.

Health Department Queried:

Civil Servants' Breakfasts As Important as Aged Diet?

OTTAWA (CP)—The health department has been asked whether the diet of old-age pensioners is causing as much concern as the breakfasts of federal civil servants.

Stanley Knowles, CCF member for Winnipeg North Centre, seeks the information in a question on the Commons order paper. The inquiry is based on a statement in the 1954-55 annual report of the health department.

The report says the department, in co-operation with the civil service commission, has launched a better breakfast project among civil servants in Ottawa.

The project was started after a survey by nursing counsellors disclosed that many government workers do not eat a breakfast satisfactory to health.

Mr. Knowles said Tuesday he is not opposed to the survey. However, he said, the department apparently doesn't know that many old-age pensioners are unable to have adequate meals at any time of the day.

His question asks for the results of the survey of the breakfast habits of civil servants and whether recommendations from the study will be published.

The Winnipeg CCF member also asks if a survey is being made to determine whether old-age pensioners are eating adequate breakfasts or "adequate meals at any time." He suggests that if no survey is being made one should be undertaken immediately.

Woman Faces Murder Count

WINNIPEG (CP)—A charge of murder was laid Tuesday against a 29-year-old woman in connection with the stabbing death of a Winnipeg man in a rooming house.

Mrs. Mona McDonell was charged after Alex Taylor, 44, died in hospital Tuesday from knife wounds.

Ontario Waters Rising

TORONTO (CP) — Severe lightning and heavy rain struck southern Ontario Tuesday night, prompting a cautious check of rivers that carried the death and destruction of Hurricane Hazel flood waters two years ago.

Flooding was reported in just about every city in the southern part of the province. However, it was said not serious late Tuesday night although 10 bridges in Toronto were reported closed.

There was no indication the flooding would be as severe as the Hazel disaster of 1954 when more than 80 persons were killed and millions of dollars damage was caused.

Dying of Cancer 'Killer' Confesses

FT. WAYNE, Ind. (UP)—An elderly cancer victim voluntarily confessed to a 47-year-old murder in Pennsylvania yesterday because he wanted "to get right with the Lord" before he died.

White-haired Albert Hayes, 75, walked into the police station and told police chief Mitchell Cleveland the fatal shooting of a Turtle Creek, Pa., farmer in 1909 had been on his conscience and that he was dying of cancer.

Canadians Frozen Out . . . . . . Urged To Take on Debts

Stop U.S. Financial Invasion, Cries Senator

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada is undergoing an invasion of United States capital that can only be termed "economic colonialism" and a halt must be called to it, Senator David Croll declared Tuesday in the Senate.

The outspoken Liberal, one-time Ontario labor minister, said about a third of all investment in Canadian manufacture is by U.S.-controlled companies and "the Canadian investor cannot make an investment in the Canadian subsidiary."

He was not suggesting legislation to control non-Canadian companies in this country. But it was time Canadians were aware of what is happening and, more important, that foreign corporations realize Canadians are aware of the situation and intend to do something about it.

The senator got little support from his colleagues.

Senator Thomas A. Crerar (L, Manitoba), one time cabinet minister, and Senator Salter Hayden (L, Ontario), a corporation lawyer and businessman, both spoke against discouragement of U.S. investment in Canada.

Senator Crerar said it is in the Canadian interest that there be the friendliest relationship with the U.S., not only for defence but for prosperity.

Senator Hayden said that when "risk capital" is needed to develop the great resources of Canada it cannot be found in this country. He termed "economic nonsense" the preachings of financial writers who warn about the dangers of U.S. capital.

Senator Croll opened the 1½-hour debate on third reading of a bill to incorporate Signature Loan and Finance Co., Canadian subsidiary of an American small loans company which plans to do business in the Maritimes and Quebec. The bill eventually was passed.

Senator Croll, former Commons member for Toronto Spadina, said he was not against the incorporation. But he was shocked to learn 83 per cent of the small loans field in Canada is owned and controlled by two foreign corporations.

This country's financial institutions owed an explanation to Canadians as to why they had not fully occupied the financial field, why they had not gone into the small loans business.

Senator Ralph Horner (PC-Saskatchewan) said the banks are to blame for not offering small loans to the public.

Senator Crerar said thought should be given to "greater control" over small loans companies in Canada. These companies, through advertising enticed Canadians to load themselves with debt.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

The so-called nations of the Middle East are snarling at each other. Once more we hear about a flurry of threats, charges, counter-charges and conferences.

The whole affair has a dreamily familiar sound. The specimen of those small, moth-eaten countries are like a number of ham actors reciting lines from an old, dull play.

And yet we are forced to pay attention to that creaking melodrama. Whether we like it or not we are involved in the course of events.

Exactly the same kind of quarrel between pygmies in the past has embroiled the giants, and caused a general war. You hear people talking about war already.

No doubt there are a number of good people in both the Arab and the Israeli camps. No doubt both antagonists have right on their side.

But the time has come for common people everywhere to demand those disputes be squelched or isolated, or both.

There is no reason on earth why the messy little squabbles of a group of ragamuffin desert countries, which are scarcely even nations, should be allowed to imperil the lives of millions and perhaps civilization itself.

* * *

The United Nations now has the chance to prove whether it is a gabby propaganda forum or a true instrument of peaceful co-operation.

It would be desirable to see justice done to both sides in these quarrels. But we would far rather see a small number of Arabs or Israelis or both—suffer pain or hurt pride, than expose the rest of the world to the smallest risk of atomic war.

Wars seem to sneak up on us. Have you ever heard of the declaration of war being decided by plebiscite? And yet if the people of all nations this side of the Iron Curtain and the other—could make it abundantly clear to their representatives that they wanted peace, all the devious parleys and threats, charges and counter-charges would move in quite another direction.

* * *

I feel sure that 95 per cent of the people in every country would like to see the parties to the Middle Eastern argument lifted by the scruffs of their pimply little necks and thrown into the nearest dung-heap, with instructions to behave or be stamped on.

Moderate Drinkers Now

Robert Werner, left, 12, and his brother, Jacob, 10, Baltimore's famous "water babies," have a drink after being assured by doctors that they now have a normal life expectancy and need take only seven quarts of water a day each. The youngsters were afflicted at birth with a kidney deficiency and at one time had to consume 34 quarts a day.—(CPC)

Fortune Inherited From 'Ex-Mate'

RIVERHEAD, N.Y. (AP)—A 53-year-old Brooklyn housewife has inherited $260,000 from a husband she thought she had divorced nearly 20 years ago.

The lucky heir is Mrs. Myra Ricchman Duck. Agreement on her share of the estate of Helge Nelson, of Huntington and Miami Beach, Fla., was reached in surrogate's court here Monday.

As a girl of 15, Mrs. Duck married Nelson. After two weeks he left her and she never heard from him again.

HIRED LAWYER

Twenty years later she wanted to marry Frank L. Duck. Prudently, she hired a lawyer to get a desertion divorce from her long-departed husband, in case he was still alive.

The lawyer, she told surrogate Edgar Hazleton, reported back in due time that he had obtained a divorce decree. He collected his fee and she went ahead and married Duck.

Nelson, meantime, was making a fortune as a partner in a Brooklyn metal products factory.

He died in Miami Beach last year at 62, leaving no will. His estate is estimated at $650,000.

Nelson's common-law wife at the time of his death, Dorothy Connist, filed in surrogate's court here for a widow's share of the estate.

A search for possible survivors was started, and it turned up Mrs. Duck.

The lawyer had misinformed her, it turned out, and never got her a divorce decree at all. She was still the legal wife of Nelson.

Dulles Urges Standing Force To Protect SEATO Nations

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—The creation of a standing military force is needed to protect vulnerable SEATO nations from Communist aggression, U.S. state Secretary Dulles told foreign ministers of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization Tuesday.

Dulles said that despite shifts in Soviet policy, the West has no evidence that Moscow actually is abandoning force.

Conceding there is "less danger of war than when violence and threats were being utilized," Dulles told the first closed session of the eight - nation SEATO conference there is, however, "a need for forces being in countries which are subject to the possibility of attack so they can be assured an aggressor would not march in and pick them up for nothing."

Pakistan's Foreign Secretary M. S. Baig told the conference: "Russia desires to destroy Pakistan as a centre of resistance to communism in this area. Pakistan does not have the means of warding off Communist aggression."

Baig referred to the anti-Pakistan statements made by Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist party secretary Nikita Khrushchev when they toured Asia last year.

RAISED KASHMIR ISSUE

These, he said, had the effect of "bringing Kashmir directly into the cold war."

The Soviet leaders expressed the view in speeches during their tour that India has the sole claim to the state of Kashmir which has been in dispute with Pakistan since both nations became independent.

Plays Continue Today

Third Festival Program Maintains High Standard

BY BERT BINNY

The third program in the Schools Drama Festival was held last night at Central Junior High school and included three nicely varied plays.

First of these was "The Poetasters of Ispahan." This was produced by Central Junior High school which for the past two years has shown a welcome predilection for the poetic play. "Nix, Nought, Nothing" of 1955 was similar.

Adjudicator Mrs. Lily Harper found this play brisk, colorful and an example of excellent teamwork, though the central idea of the affair was not, she thought, projected early enough.

Next came "My Last Duchess," presented by Victoria High school. Here, characters were established early and the cast approached the production intelligently.

Sharon Woods "Francesca" was beautifully played, particularly in regard to her change in characterization which employed her voice, her attitude—even her walk.

GOOD WORK

Barbara Geddes, as "Lisa," continued the good work which received commendation in the religious festival of last week. John Gilliland, as "The Duke of Ferrara," played with understanding and his voice was particularly fine.

"Slow Curtain," presented by St. Margaret's school, is a delightful piece and the cast made the most of it.

Meredith Savale, as "Malvina Hathaway," and Sally Timmis, as "Sloper," were outstanding. There were actually no weak parts. Pace, movement and timing were excellent.

This play the adjudicator commended particularly for vocal clarity, for the sensitivity in timing and for the teamwork displayed.

Two further sessions take place today. First is at 2.15 p.m. at Lansdowne Junior High school and the second at 8 p.m. at Mount View High school.

Afternoon performances began yesterday.

Quadra's entry, "The Homiest Room," an interlude in domestic happenings of almost universal familiarity.

WELL PLAYED

Linda Parfitt played the wife, "Agnes Saunders," with aplomb, employing all the tactics and marshaling all the resources with which real-life wives confound their spouses.

David Anderson's "Fred," the spouse in question, seemed too much overawed or invertebrate. Their offspring, "Bud" (David Jones) and "Margie" (Carollyn Brace Heal) were quite suitably potential nuisances.

Adjudicator Mrs. Lily Harper commended the cast on "a very sincere job." Grouping, tempo and movement were in general good.

Next came James Bay elementary school's "The Spick and Span Home," a play which deserts the confines of reality for the freer realms of make-believe.

Three "Black Imps" (Sharon Stables, Lynda Adair and Barbara Weber) made up for an almost complete lack of spoken lines with quite terrific bursts of energy. They seemed to enjoy every second of it.

Mrs. Harper found this play neat and colorful.

PLATINUM SOURCE

The Republic of Colombia, where platinum was first discovered in 1735, is believed to have the world's largest deposits of the mineral.

Silence Wall Baffles FBI

CHICAGO (UP)—The Negro magazine Jet quoted J. Edgar Hoover last night as saying the FBI battles a "curtain of silence" in some areas of the south in investigating civil rights violations involving Negroes and whites.

The magazine asked: "What are the major difficulties of the FBI in solving racial crimes in the south?"

Hoover replied that "in some areas of the south, the FBI has found itself confronted with the problem of having to penetrate a 'curtain of silence' in seeking the facts concerning alleged federal civil rights violations involving both Negroes and whites."

Resigns Position

VANCOUVER (CP)—Ronald K. Gervin, secretary of the Trades and Labor Council, announced his resignation here Tuesday night at a meeting in the Labor Temple.

He gave no reason except to say he is moving "into a different position."

"BACK ON SCHEDULE!"

"I've taken things for relief from constipation for years. Now, at 75, I'm back on schedule—regular as clock work thanks to Kellogg's All-Bran." Mr. J. W. Lewthwaite, Toronto.

Good-tasting Kellogg's All-Bran succeeds in many cases where other methods fail. All-Bran gets at the common cause of irregularity—lack of bulk in the things we eat. All-Bran is highly nutritious yet inexpensive. Delicious served with milk (hot or cold). Kellogg's—the original ready-to-eat bran cereal. For comfortable, natural regularity.

Garden Notes

Dahlia Growth Speedy, Simple

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

Continuing our series on flowers from seed, it has always been something of a surprise to me why more novice gardeners don't try their hand at growing dwarf dahlias from seed.

Outside of nasturtiums, I don't think there are any flowers easier to grow. In our family, we don't even bother about starting them indoors any more. We simply buy a packet of Unwin's Dwarf Hybrids and another of Coltness Gems and sow the seed in a row of the vegetable plot, along with the carrots and peas.

GROW QUICKLY

They come up almost as quickly as radishes, and after being thinned to stand 18 inches apart, they form nice bushy plants 2½ feet tall which start blooming in something less than 60 days, continuing well into the fall.

During the thinning operation, some of the plants are shifted around to the front garden for use as bedding plants, but the ones in the vegetable plot are strictly for cutting. My wife can cut great bunches of the lovely flowers for the house or the church without carving any holes in the garden display.

GROWN FROM TUBERS

As you probably know, dahlias are customarily grown from tubers, and it costs quite a lot of money to buy a decent collection of these sweet-potato-like roots. But the little, dwarf kinds are so easy and cheap to grow from seed, we don't even bother about saving the tubers in the fall—unless, of course, we run across some particularly exquisite specimen we wish to save and grow again the following year.

Storing the tubers over the winter safely is a rather tricky business, and it takes up a lot of basement space we can ill afford.

There isn't anything particularly difficult about their culture, and there are only two points which should be watched carefully.

First, for a long-lasting display, the flowers should be kept picked and never allowed to fade and go to seed, otherwise, its mission in life accomplished, the plants are liable to pack up and quit for the season.

Secondly, they must never be allowed to become dry. While in active growth, the dahlia is a thirsty plant, and without sufficient water, the flowers will be small and poorly formed, and the strain of producing such a great profusion of bloom will bring them quickly to a sticky end. We ensure a constantly moist root-run by mulching around the plants heavily with dried lawn mowings.

Blackie's Back

Last Saturday Wendy Maunder reported to The Daily Colonist her little spaniel was missing. He'd been gone since Wednesday. Yesterday 14-year-old Wendy, recovering from an attack of flu, was reunited with her delighted dog, found by Saanich pound-keeper, Tom Sinclair, locked in an abandoned shed. Mr. Sinclair had seen the lost dog's story in the Colonist, checked at Wendy's address, 1475 Derby, and found Blackie's happy mistress.—(Colonist photo by Jim Ryan)

Leaders Oppose 'Re-Examination' Of Strike Rights

Trade unionists here—with one exception—lined up against a United Church of Canada spokesman's view that the right to strike should be re-examined.

"I think it is most unfortunate and very disturbing that the Church should advocate restricting one of the basic freedoms for which, over the years, many trade unionists have fought, and died in some cases," said Jack McKenzie, president of Victoria IWA local 1-118.

The re-examination was suggested before the Gordon economic commission by Dr. J. R. Mutchmor, secretary of the United Church board of evangelism and social service.

He said it seemed from the recent automotive strikes in Ontario that that province has been chosen as the economic battleground by leaders of industry and labor.

If this is true, he said, the United Church would urge that the right to strike, particularly in large-scale North American industries, be re-examined.

Labor's Last Resort

T. C. Gooderham, TLC representative, said organized labor would never give up the right to strike. He would admit, Mr. Gooderham said, that everyone is hurt by strikes. But these are a last resort.

Lone labor voice for re-examination was Frank Howard, MLA and officer of the loggers' local, IWA.

The re-examination must come, he said, where a company can or does exercise an economic stranglehold, such as in the automotive industry, B.C. Electric Co., B.C. Telephone Co., and others.

But with any re-examination strike rights would be retained, he thought

Mr. Howard said corporations enjoying "exclusive licence" should be directed by a board representative of and responsible to stockholders, employees and the general public.

The United Church view may be discussed tonight when the Victoria District Trades and Labor Council meet.

In Vancouver, Tom Alsbury, president of the Vancouver Trades and Labor Congress (TLC), said:

"Dr. Mutchmor says Ontario has become a testing ground for both labor and management, and because of that takes away the weapon of labor. It's not logical.

George Home, secretary of the B.C. Federation of Labor, said the submission of the churchmen seemed "woolly-headed."

'Good' Says Bulganin Of Eisenhower Letter

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower urged Soviet Premier Bulganin Tuesday to join him in efforts to end the atomic arms race by freezing stockpiles of atomic [illegible] guarded" disarmament system.

He made his appeal in a letter released by the White House Tuesday afternoon and Bulganin reacted in a friendly manner with extraordinary speed.

The Soviet premier told reporters who met him at a Moscow reception that he considered the president's message a "very interesting letter and a good one," though it would require much study.

"My ultimate hope" Eisenhower wrote Bulganin Tuesday, "is that all production of fissionable materials anywhere in the world will be devoted exclusively to peaceful purposes."

He also told Bulganin that while it may be difficult in the absence of "real peace in the Far East" to agree on cutting the size of armies, navies and air forces just now it should be possible to agree on limiting "under proper safeguards" [illegible] guards major types of weapons, such as bombers, missiles, tanks and the like.

SAFEGUARDS ESSENTIAL

He agreed with a Bulganin argument that it would be difficult to prevent the secret manufacture of atomic and hydrogen weapons in violation of controls.

Murder Trial Admits Pictures of Bodies

MELVILLE, Sask. (CP)—Police photographs taken after five persons were found dead in the Fenwood district last August were admitted for identification purposes only Tuesday at the murder trial of John Petlock.

Petlock, 36 - year - old farmer charged with the murder of his brother, Michael, was arrested in Edmonton last Labor Day after a three-province manhunt. Michael's body was one of those found on their mother's farm.

The pictures showed the bodies of Mrs. Mary Petlock, 72, Michael's mother, his wife, Angeline, 21, and their two daughters, Dianne, 3, and Michalene, 11 months.

The jury was excluded while opposing lawyers argued the admissibility of the photographs. Mr. Justice H. F. Thomson of the court of Queen's bench, ruling on a defence request that the photographs not be admitted, said they could not be entirely disregarded but would be admitted only for identification purposes. They were not shown to the jury.

The trial, being held in the auditorium of the town hall in this railway town 100 miles northeast of Regina, filled all seats in the 240-seat auditorium despite bitter cold and snow - blocked roads. Hotel rooms are at a premium and restaurants were crowded to the doors during meal hours.

Cpl. L. B. Shields, RCMP identification expert from the Yorkton subdivision, was the only witness to appear. There are still 48 crown witnesses to be heard. Sgt. D. H. Minor, officer in charge of the RCMP Melville detachment, was expected to testify this morning.

No Boom for Universities

DR. SIDNEY SMITH, president of the University of Toronto and one of the best-known educationists in Canada, made a number of acute comments on the course of advanced education in his year-end review to the senate and board of that institution. He dealt with the prospective growth in attendance at all Canadian universities, the need for more support for capital construction and upkeep, provision for future students and other factors. Clear cut in his recommendations was the suggestion that this nation pay far more attention to junior colleges and technical schools than it has in the past.

Dr. Smith cited figures to show that the Provinces were spending four times as much on the universities as did the national government; and that the contribution of all industry to advanced learning was the equivalent of "nine one-hundredths of one per cent" last year. The universities, he said, had not shared in the boom which had otherwise swept most undertakings in Canada.

Now these are factual objections. Certainly this nation has not as yet done much to provide technical schools for those students whose talents have most to benefit from such instruction. Junior colleges might need some more definition; the senior high schools are supposed to lead on to college now. Federal reluctance to intervene in education should not prohibit aid for the construction of new and needed buildings. As Dr. Smith says, if college training is to be given to an ever-growing attendance roll of students either the universities will have to be doubled, or else given adequate financial means of extending their existing facilities.

It is common knowledge what use all governments and industry are making of university services today. Research plays a big part in it; and, while there are grants for research, the universities still have to pay their own overhead. Industrial donations usually are tied to industrial wants, and so the arts languish. Similarly, for the faculties of most Canadian universities the necessarily limited sums available for salaries have remained what can only be described as meagre. Far too much is being left to the self-sacrifice of the individual.

Meanwhile Canada has grown beyond the stage of immaturity. Advanced education is not something to be left to haphazard support. If there ever was a time when sound training was needed in all of the sciences and arts of man's newer knowledge it is now and for the immediate future in this young and growing land. Inasmuch as he had made these needs the clearer Dr. Smith has performed good service to the nation by speaking out.

Loaded Comparisons

WHILE Premier Bennett is attending the Dominion-provincial financial conference this week perhaps it would be possible for him to get a complete set of figures covering the relationship between federal income and expenditure in British Columbia. Those published recently by supporters of and apologists for the Dominion government are quite misleading. Dr. F. T. Fairey, MP, for Victoria, is the latest to recite a string of statistics which, unless examined closely, might give the impression that the federal government is generously spending in British Columbia millions of dollars more than it gets back under various revenue headings.

On the expenditure side Dr. Fairey has listed items ranging from statutory subsidies under the British North America Act all the way down to interest on Dominion bonds, and has arrived at a grand total of $355,528,000. On the income side he lists only income tax, succession duties, domestic excise taxes and excise duties for an aggregate of $270,857,000. On that basis British Columbia appears to come out the winner by about $85,000,000.

The weakness of this presentation is that while the schedule of federal expenditures has been stretched to include some items that are as much for Canada's benefit as British Columbia's, the statement of revenue conveniently omits the hidden sources. What about federal taxes on automobiles which yielded the Dominion government $138,000,000 in 1954-55 and to which British Columbia purchasers contributed at least $13,000,000? What about the concealed federal sales tax amounting in the case of the B.C. public to about $160,000,000? These taxes may be applied at the manufacturers' level in other parts of Canada and hidden in the price of the articles sold, but that does not alter the fact that it is the ultimate purchaser who pays them.

For years the Liberals have been quoting incomplete statistical comparisons as proof of Ottawa's great generosity to this province. If terms of a new Dominion-provincial agreement are going to be settled by a battle of figures, let's have all of them.

Aldermanic Attendance

WHEN voters endorsed the reduction of the city council from ten to eight aldermen, a process completed only two years ago, they did so because they thought the smaller number was ample to run civic affairs under the city manager plan. That was the criterion. It was not a question of choosing a council on the basis of allowing absence from meetings. Aldermen are reimbursed to the extent of some $1,100 a year and while this in no sense represents pay for their labors presumably it is some kind of offset for the time spent on civic business. At least it suggests sufficient inducement for fairly regular attendance at council meetings.

A great to-do is being made—and used as an argument for a return to a 10-member aldermanic board—because the council has had trouble recently in finding a quorum. On most matters a quorum is five out of nine, including the mayor, so that even a quorum permits half the aldermen to be absent. Anything less than a quorum is therefore not easy to excuse on any ground. If half of eight aldermen cannot be present regularly then it does not speak well either for the sense of duty that prevails or for the manner in which they arrange their personal affairs. When they sought election—and some of them for a second term—they must have been fully aware of the responsibility that would rest on them in this respect.

It is true that aldermen need vacations like everybody else, although it could be argued that even though winter vacations are becoming popular this should be recognized as a bad time for aldermen to take holidays. The early months of a council year are those in which pressure of work is greater as new programs are laid out and estimates prepared, and it is during this period particularly that the presence of all aldermen is most desirable. Raising the council back to ten aldermen—a move not likely to find favor with the voters—would merely provide more opportunity for more absentees from council meetings. And an aldermanic board that functions only on the level of quorum meetings and no more is not doing its job properly.

Interpreting the News

Khrushchev Power Grows

By LEO AVANI
Associated Press News Analyst

TO label Communist Party boss Nikita Khrushchev a new Josef Stalin would seem both superficial and misleading. True, the 20th party congress has reaffirmed Khrushchev's basic policies and has reinforced his dominance in party councils.

It is equally true that despite the collective leadership of which Moscow has made so much recently, Khrushchev's pre-eminence over his fellow members of the Kremlin stands out like a sore thumb. As time passes, his supporters appear likely to take over more and more of the key spots in the Soviet republic. Conceivably, whether any coalition of forces can challenge his position seems questionable.

* * *

Khrushchev's strength has been shown in three particular ways. One of these is the election of the new central committee of the party. Of the newcomers to this rank—and there are more than a third—many can be shown to have been closely associated with Khrushchev and his adherents in the past.

The percentage of newcomers to the rank of alternate membership in the central committee is even higher. All five of the new alternate members seem to be closely allied to the party first secretary.

In addition, there are the two new party secretaries named by the 20th party congress. These are Ekaterina Furtseva and Leonid Brezhnev. Both owe their advancement to Khrushchev personally.

Nor are those the only important developments foreshadowing Khrushchev as the strong man of Russia as reflected by the party congress. The positions of both Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and minister of electric power Georgi Malenkov have deteriorated. Both have been criticized by Khrushchev. Yet both men remain in the party presidium. It seems likely that this is because Khrushchev is willing to tolerate them there—for the time being, at least.

What has been made clear is that with or without Khrushchev, the Soviet government is going to pursue its policies of the last year. It is going to continue to maintain the nation in a state of mobilization. It is going to continue to extend and intensify its influence over the Soviet bloc nations and make a big play for the neutrals of Asia and the Middle East.

Thinking Aloud

"... of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

THE animal series that adorns certain match-folders is very interesting. It reminds me of boyhood days when cigarette packets included cards depicting famous athletes, actresses, and the like, and of the fun associated with collecting and swopping them. We boys did not buy the cigarettes, not being very sophisticated then, but we managed to get the cards just the same.

The current match-folders would be more valuable however if they contained a few descriptive lines about the animals represented. Perhaps somebody will take a tip.

Commas are nowadays very much a matter of literary taste and they are, I fear, dying out a lot. In certain moods this writer subscribes to them and in others he does not. Be that as it may, though, one lady reader thanks me for enriching Gray's "Elegy" (for her) by mentioning the lost comma of the first line. She thinks that when put after the word "tolls" it adds more meaning to the line. By contrast another lady deems that each line in the verse is a complete sentence and that the verb "tolls" could not very well have a comma between it and its object the noun "knell."

Now if only Thomas Gray were around we could have him settle the matter—perhaps. Authors are not always dependable. John McCrae once copied his most noted poem, and misquoted it. A famous pianist was once stopped by Toscanini because he was playing his own composition wrongly!

* * *

Another reader, on punctuation, says the King James Version nods too, citing a misplaced comma at Luke 23: 43, which reads: "And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, Today thou shalt be with me in paradise."

The thief had asked to be remembered in Jesus' kingdom and, adds my reader, since "we know Christ's kingdom was not to commence that day, but at his second presence" Jesus' reply should be punctuated by a comma after "today" and not after "thee."

* * *

Talking about the Bible did you ever hear what Lord Montgomery told the students at St. Andrew's University? He was addressing them on military commanders—Moses, Cromwell and Napoleon were his pick—and he said this of the Old Testament leader:

"I believe that Moses intentionally kept Israel for forty years in the desert—for two generations—in order to breed and train a fighting race capable of undertaking the task of conquest which lay ahead. He was most careful never to risk failures in action. He had an unbroken record of military success."

You might not be far wrong in thinking that Monigomery took Moses for his own example, all except the 40 years.

* * *

A kindly lady writes me a note in which she lets drop that some of the pieces appearing in this space she clips and pastes in her scrapbook. That is a distinct compliment, but rather paralyzing too. It means I shall have to watch my step to stay scrapworthy.

* * *

An unusual note on the Victoria Cross. At the time of its foundation a wag wrote of it as follows:

Here's Valour's Cross, my man,
Twill serve
Though rather ugly—take it,
John Bull a medal can deserve,
But can't contrive to make it.

Not quite true. The VC is not a particularly ornate medal but it is not ugly; and since that verse was penned its very plainness has added to its increasing virtue.

Education in America

Encouragement of Mediocrity

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

THE 82nd annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators in Atlantic City brought out some interesting facts about American high school education that leave many pertinent questions unanswered.

The speakers seemed to be highly satisfied with developments, and with the fact they they radically depart from the traditional pattern in other democratic countries where high schools are regarded as repositories of academic learning and teach subjects for their own sake, whereas American high school education has shown eagnerness "to adapt its program to the modern needs that arise from social and economic change."

One speaker, J. G. Unstattd, professor of secondary education at Texas University, reportedly described the American high school as "the catalytic agent that changes inert knowledge into dynamic power to serve human welfare' (whatever that may mean), and cited as an example the increase in automobile driver education, which he thought should be expanded since less than half of our high schools teach it. He also hailed steady increase in vocational subjects.

* * *

Now, that young people should learn how to drive automobiles properly will hardy be disputed; but that the knowledge has any more to do with basic education than learning to play baseball—which also can be a remunerative vocation—is highly disputable.

The fact is that under cover of such educational patter as "catalytic agent," "dynamic power" and "social and economic change" our high schools are progressively abandoning even the effort to train American youth in any of the basic intellectual disciplines that are essential to higher learning in any fields.

If anything, for instance, characterizes this "world of change" it is the accelerating importance of science and technology, and the resultant demand for trained technicians of all kinds, for whom mathematical and basic scientific knowledge are indispensable.

Yet, according to the last figures, only 4 per cent of American high school students are studying elementary physics, 7 per cent chemistry, 27 per cent algebra, and 13 per cent geometry! And half our high schools do not even offer courses in chemistry or physics.

The United States has become a world power, carrying on many operations abroad. Adequately to staff them requires people proficient in foreign languages, yet the teaching of these is going backward, not forward, and many universities grant BA degrees to students who have never opened a foreign language textbook.

* * *

If our high schools are to become pre-eminently vocational institutions to teach youth minor skills which require little intellectual application—the argument being that, with secondary education encompassing nearly everyone, more than this is beyond the mental capacity of the majority—what is to become of the minority who do possess the capacity for more serious effort?

Not all of their parents can send them to private schools, where mathematical, scientific, and grammatical training, including the study of a foreign language, are compulsory. Today adequate preparation for genuine higher education is rapidly becoming confined to these, which puts such education on a class base.

If the minority of the naturally intelligent, ambitious, and industrious are to be dragged down to the level of the mediocre, what will happen to America?

If the high schools are to prepare for "life" in general and perhaps that is really their function—then there must certainly be other public schools preparing gifted children for particular and demanding activities of life. The preparatory education of a future truck driver cannot possibly be that of a future scientist, historian, writer, statesman, professor, or engineer.

Under the trend of modern education the gifted child is becoming the most "under-privileged." His talents are not being stimulated or his mind developed—an affront to his personality that is often irreparable, and an illimitable loss to American democracy, whose reputed founder, Thomas Jefferson, had ideas about education that would make the hair of our educators stand on end.

* * *

And if mass education produces only semi-literate masses, who, in the end, will save the masses from the masses?

Today on the Sun

(From The Christian Science Monitor)

"TODAY," says a news dispatch from London, an enormous explosion took place on the sun—as gigantic as that of a million hydrogen bombs would be.

Today? This dating of what takes place in outer space must be approached with caution. This time it was "today." For light from the sun—which is a mere 93,000,000 miles away—from this exposion reached the astronomers in London only eight minutes after it occurred on Old Sol.

Had this Gargantuan event taken place on some other stars it would have been different. An eruption on one of the stars of the Centaur in late 1951 might have been seen on earth "today." One on Sirius, the brightest of all stars, around the time of the 1948 presidential election would have its effect, if any, on the 1956 campaign. An explosion registered today from Orion's Nebula would have actually taken place several decades before Columbus set out on his first voyage of discovery.

So it might be well to have your electronic calculator in your pocket when you get to talking about happenings on the stars. But "today" can mean today on the sun—so long as you speak of it after 12.08 a.m.

Versatile Parking Meter

(From The Calgary Albertan)

THERE'S a new-type parking meter on the market. It not only takes your money for the privilege of parking, but it also takes your fine for over-parking. That's decent of it!

Here's how it works. The motorist puts his parking money into it in the usual way. Then when his time has run out the violation signal shows in the usual way. A policeman writes a parking ticket in the usual way. The motorist comes back and finds the ticket and curses in the usual way. Then, when he cools down and remembers that the civic authorities have graciously considered his convenience and welfare, he puts the ticket half way into a special slot on the parking meter, feeds the amount of the fine into the meter, tears off his half of the numbered ticket, and goes his way.

No fuss, no muss, no delay, no trip to the police station.

Fun, Fact and Fiction

Sometimes, as these great debates roll across the country, one gets a little confused. Is it the Communists who are trying to get the fluoride into the water, or to keep it out?

* * *

When the mayor of Birmingham, Alabama, proclaimed a "National Nothing Week" he overlooked a natural by not setting up a contest to select a "Miss Nobody" to reign over it.

Dainty Dolly, who is devoting her life to spreading the cause of optimism just everywhere, calls on the weather bureau to take a more cheerful view. Instead of predicting occasional showers, why not make it occasional sunshine?

* * *

Economists seem to think that 1956 will be one long trumpet blast of prosperity. Except, that is, for a few times when we'll have to stop to inhale.

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

IT IS a shocking fact that more and better fishing is to be had within an hour or two of London, England, than within three or four hours of the main centres of Canadian population with, of course, the exceptions of Vancouver and Victoria and their neighboring communities, towards which all dedicated Canadian anglers should turn, as devout Moslems turn to Mecca.

There are several reasons for this situation—the chief of which, apart from the wetter climate of Britain and the proximity of the sea which doubtless pushes up springs of fresh water all over the isles, is the long-established principle of preservation of the streams in England. And it must be confessed that most if not nearly all of this good fishing, close to London is strictly private. I imagine land values and income from land through which such streams as the Test and Itchen flow must be very great, largely by reason of the fishing.

Eric Taverner is one of the great names in contemporary English writing about angling and country life. Two new books of his have recently arrived in Canada, one of them, "The Making of a Trout Stream," being about as revealing a story on how the English have saved their streams and their fishing as could be. I suspect it is a fictional account of the taking over and remodelling of a run-down little river in the heart of England. And it is written in the form of a season-by-season account of the reclamation and reconditioning of a small stream such as might even be attempted in the dried-up and exhausted regions of eastern Canada. It is not strictly an angling story at all, but a most fascinating revelation of a man's love of a little bit of country. Old Countrymen might be made very homesick by it.

The other Taverner book is a small one on "Fly Tying for Trout," and one thing it stresses for the Canadian sportsman is the employment of small flies. In Canada, because so much of our water is wild and the best of it a little remote, sportsmen are inclined to use large trout flies, culminating in recent years in the very widespread use of large streamer flies. On reading Taverner's book, the impression takes hold that our sport could be vastly increased by the use of the very tiny trout flies he prescribes.

Pitied Minority

May I be given space to comment on C. F. Mansfield's letter in Saturday's Colonist titled "Fleecing the Majority."

As we in the Victoria vicinity have a choice of viewing or listening to either private or publicity owned stations, one must conclude that C. F. Mansfield is painfully concerned about that pitied minority that prefer the publicly-owned stations.

Your correspondent states that the CBC is "incapable of contributing towards the making of good music." He is undoubtedly right; so right in fact I shall even go so far as to give examples to prove that the CBC is "incapable of contributing towards the making of good music."

The other afternoon I happened to tune in on the CBC and they were giving us music by some unknown foreign band calling themselves the New York Philharmonic. They were giving us practically all foreign stuff from such forgotten writers as Mozart, Shostakovich, Debussy, etc. (of course I do not expect them to know C. F. Mansfield or I do not speak foreign so can't understood that stuff).

In contrast to this the private stations offer us such well-known orchestras as the "Corn Hill Billies" rendering such inspiring and heart-rending compositions as "I'm all alone when there's no one with me," conducted by our own Teddy Clovenhoof.

Or take for instance Beethoven's Emperor Concerto which the CBC occasionally gives us. That was written only a century or so ago, but C. F. Mansfield and I have probably forgotten who composed it and for whom. On the other hand, look at that well-known and internationally accepted composition written by Lotsa Muzac titled "All I want for Easter is a set of false teeth." Music such as this fills the soul; soothes the savage breast and makes strong men cry like babies. The private stations will offer this stirring composition and many others like it, at the drop of an "O" in monopoly.

All those silly international awards that the CBC so consistently wins year after year for its broadcasting efforts only prove that as C. F. Mansfield says "There is something unsavorable about a public service which is only capable of attracting a minority."

Lots of Them Around

Notice what a lot of confusion your short report on a long talk has caused in some people's minds.

First a garrulous padre picked up the wrong scent from it and tried to write a smashing blow at a good patriot. Then in today's issue (March 4) of the Colonist there is a still more foolish anti-Gostick effusion accusing him of being anti what he is not.

Luckily this wild writer, of whom I think there are not many such about, in an outstandinngly brilliant line states that there are lots like Gostick around.

Jaycees Biased

I notice in this morning's Colonist (March 4) that Mrs. A. B. Thompson (President, PTA) is going to advise the members to attend the meetings put on by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, with the idea of becoming educated on the pros and cons of fluoridation.

If it is factual evidence that the lady is seeking, then these Jaycee meetings would seem to be the last place to go, as they have already aligned themselves on the side of fluoridation; thus all evidence put forward by them would of necessity be biased in favor of fluoridation.

In view of the fact that so small a group are benefited by the use of fluorides, why not let them procure it as needed? It is quite cheap, that I know, as I use it for rat poison.

PORT ALBERNI — Building permits were issued during February authorizing new construction here valued at $243,270.

The total far exceeds that for February, 1955, when new construction valued at $65,000 was authorized.

Total to the end of February this year is $350,000 compared to $83,550 in the same period of 1955.

Missiles Answer to Missiles Declares Defence Scientist

OTTAWA (CP) — Dr. O.M. Solandt said Tuesday ground-to-air guided missiles fitted with nuclear warheads will be required for an effective Canadian air defence system in the foreseeable future.

The doctor - scientist, who last [illegible] defence research board to become a CNR vice-president in charge of research, said in a press conference that ground-to-air missiles eventually will supersede fighter planes in the defence system.

Dr. Solandt said the "real danger" in the next 10 or 15 years will arise from development of the intercontinental ballistic missile as a useful weapon.

But he was convinced defence against it is possible and that this would take the form of another missile.

Dr. Solandt said Canadian defence scientists likely will concentrate on adapting American guided missiles for Canadian use rather than developing Canadian missiles [illegible]

He stressed that top priority must be given in Canada in the future to improved methods of detection and early warning of air attack.

Surface - to - air guided missiles would be developed to the point where they would eventually replace jet fighters in the Canadian air defence system.

Dr. Solandt said it will be "quite a long time" before effective defence against the intercontinental missiles can be developed. Whichever side—the West or the Communists — got the missile first would be in a dominant political position.

One-Third of Time

Applicant Stresses Local TV Programs

One-third of a daily eight-hour schedule of programs will be devoted to Victoria events if CKDA wins the two-way fight for television channel 6, CKDA president David M. Armstrong said yesterday.

His statement followed the announcement of the CBC board of governors that two applications were received for the channel before the deadline Monday.

Briefs from Mr. Armstrong, on behalf of a company not yet incorporated, and from William Rea's International Television Corporation Ltd. will be heard by the board March 28.

The board will also hear Mr. Rea's request to sell New Westminster radio station CKNW to Inglewood Investments Ltd., Muro Investments Ltd. and the Southam Co., or to the Inglewood and Muro firms.

STATION POWER

Power of the station planned by Mr. Rea would be 4,000 watts audio and 2,000 watts video; by Mr. Armstrong 1,800 watts audio and 900 watts video.

Mr. Armstrong said his consulting engineers informed him yesterday that because of technical considerations, power applied for by the two groups is actually almost equal.

If CKDA wins the fight, he said, the resulting TV station will broadcast from 4 p.m. to midnight daily, with two and one-half hours of local programs.

These would include news, mostly by film clips and pictures, "live" sports where possible, programs for small children, teen-age and adult forums, women's programs, quizzes, weather forecasts, general interviews, hobby and health shows, gardening and wild life programs and others.

Crombie Rites Set Thursday

Funeral services will be held Thursday for a retired Prairie businessman, Lennox R. G. Crombie, 72, who died suddenly Monday night.

His son, H. L. Crombie, is managing secretary of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

Born in Lancashire, England, Mr. Crombie came to Canada in 1912 and lived in Edmonton and Winnipeg. Before he retired in Victoria in 1952, he was office manager for many years of Weston's bakeries in Winnipeg. His wife, Ellen, died here a year ago.

Survivors are two sons, Dr. Gordon P. Crombie, of Calgary and H. L. Crombie; one daughter, Mrs. Jean Wirdnam, of Winnipeg, and five grandchildren.

Services will be held in McCall Bros.' funeral home at 3 p.m., Thursday, with Rev. William Allan officiating. Burial will be at Royal Oak.

LITTLE DIPPER cake mix
A BIGGER CAKE

For one young lady, for one year...

Even this picture doesn't show all the children's clothes you have to buy. And then there are things like birthdays, and bicycles, and the dentist . . . It's no picnic, handling the purse-strings for a growing family.

But it's a lot easier if you can just keep ahead of your shopping list, instead of behind it. And the practical way to do that is to deposit a regular amount, each month, in a Royal Bank savings account. As your savings build up you can go ahead and buy things as you need them . . . pay cash if you want . . . pick up bargains, too.

You can get started, at any branch of the Royal Bank.

Oils Strong But Uraniums Depressed

TORONTO (CP) — The stock market closed on the retreat on Tuesday though average prices were a little higher despite a one-point index decline by industrials. The market drove ahead at the opening and both industrials and base metals touched record highs. Western oils were at a three-year peak.

Papers led the higher industrial groups. Refining oils opened firmly then turned mixed. Price changes ranged to about three points either way. Goodyear was a $3 winner at a high for the year of $161. Howard Smith, at $42.75, and Transmountain, at $51.75, each firmed $2.25.

Ahead a point or more were Algoma, Walker's, Anglo-Canadian Pulp and Ogilvie. Imperial Life was down $3 at $70 on a 27-share block.

The uraniums were mostly depressed. Gunnar was off ½. Nesbitt Labine slipped 25 cents to $2.10.

Most of the senior western oils posted fractional gains up to half a point but Merrill Pete slipped 50 cents. General Pete advanced 40 to $5.60.

Aluminium Rises

MONTREAL (CP) — Industrial prices held some gains at the close of active trading Tuesday on the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges. Some soft spots appeared as the day advanced.

Bathurst B gained 1¾, Howard Smith 1¼, International 1¼ and Minnesota and Ontario ½ in a strong paper group. Shawinigan moved ½ higher to reach a new top in the utilities.

In the base metals, Aluminium added 1¼, Consolidated Smelters ⅞ and Noranda ½. Steels were mixed as Algoma gained a point and Stelco slipped a point.

Refining oils were easier as BA lost 1¼ points and Imperial ½. Pipeline issues advanced as Trans Mountain moved up two points to reach a new high.

Chib Mining gained 60 cents, Copper Cliff and New Royran 25 each and Quebec Chib 20 cents as low-priced mines advanced. Calgary and Edmonton moved up 1¾ points in the western oils.

New York Eases

NEW YORK (UP) — Stocks turned irregular after a three-day rise had carried industrials to a record high, utilities to a new high since April 13, 1931, and rails to their best since Dec. 8.

Railroad issues declined on profit-taking.

Steels eased small amounts. Oils were irregularly lower. Metals turned mixed with Magma, Anaconda and Kennecott easier and U.S. Smelting and Reynolds higher. Motors were around their previous close. Aircrafts ran up more than a point and held a large part of their rise.

Strong spots included Zenith which at its high was up more than 4, Scott Paper, International Silver, Jefferson Lake Sulphur, Newmont Mining, Addressograph, and McGraw Hill Publishing, up 2 to 3 each.

The market opened firm and moderately active, ran late for a brief period and then leveled off. The prices eroded steadily as the close approached.

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG (CP)—Oats and barley generally held to a narrow range while flax eased and rye advanced in dull trade.

Best commercial demand was in barley where exporters and shippers made purchases. Prices were firm. A small export business in barley was reported to the United Kingdom.

Oats had purchases for feeding requirements. Flax declined on increased commission house offerings.

Some demand came in on the declines but was not enough to pull prices up. Rye was erratic in local trade closing higher after showing an easier tone earlier.

CHICAGO (AP) — An early advance in grains failed to hold on the board of trade.

Prices turned irregular in the afternoon.

Wheat succumbed easiest to selling pressure although losses were not large.

New crop months were down most as traders felt prospects of higher government price supports were diminishing.

Half RCMP Work Drugs, Club Told

CHEMAINUS (CP) — If drug addiction could be stamped out the work of the RCMP would be lessened by more than 50 per cent, RCMP Corporal Jack Dawling told members of the Chemainus Kinsmen Club.

"Prevalent use of drugs has been a problem in Canada for the last 70 years," he said. "Mexico has replaced China as a main source of supply.

"It costs the addict an average of $10,950 annually for his drugs. This means he must steal goods valued at $30,000 to keep himself supplied," the officer said.

"There are more than 800 known drug addicts in Vancouver and the use of drugs is increasing but addiction among teenagers is not prevalent."

NANAIMO (BUF) — The Nanaimo city council is considering lowering the age limit of youths in pool halls from 18 to 16 years.

Request was made to the council by David S. Dunn, who said the request was due to the lack of sports facilities in Nanaimo.

DUNCAN — A well-known business will officially change hands here Monday when Morrison Motors becomes Wally Stipe Motors Ltd.

New owner will be Walter R. Stipe of Victoria, for nearly 10 years an employee of Wilson Motors where he has served at various times as credit manager, used car manager, assistant sales manager and truck and lease operations manager.

Newell Morrison will take over Wilson Motors in Victoria as new owner on the same day, closing a business career here that began some 4½ years ago.

A former athlete, Mr. Stipe was well known on Vancouver Island before the Second World War as a tennis, rugby, baseball and basketball player.

Retain Army Names

PORT ALBERNI—An attempt will be made by the Canadian Legion here to persuade property owners in the former army camp at Glenwood to retain some of the street names with roots in the history of the Canadian Army.

A Legion delegation has asked council to arrange a meeting with Glenwood ratepayers so they may be formally requested to reconsider their application to have all street names in the area changed.

Hugh Reid, delegation spokesman, asked for retention of such names as Vimy, Mons and Somme.

NANAIMO (CP) — A delegation of automotive retailers has asked city council to hold up the granting of further licences for service stations pending a meeting of the delegates and the town planning commission.

Spokesman for the automotive retailers, J. L. Kinneard of Vancouver, said they do not want to limit the number of outlets for reasons of competition, but because the public will be best served by careful zoning.

Mayor E. C. Westwood said he would hold up all gas station applications with the exception of three now under construction.

NANAIMO—Canadian Legion members here have approved a resolution to the zone organization for the placing of names of all Nanaimo district residents killed in Korea on the Cenotaph.

Branch No. 10 members feel that this move should be promoted by the zone in all Legion branches across Canada. Also that recognition should be accorded to those who served in Korea on the same basis as those in previous wars.

'I Saw a Puddle of Water —And There Was a Hand'

NANAIMO — An accidental death verdict was returned by a coroner's jury here this afternoon into the death of Douglas Charles Medley 2½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Medley, who fell into a septic tank Monday afternoon and drowned.

The youngster's mother said he was playing in the yard and about 3 p.m noticed he was missing. After searching for him Mrs. Medley said she went home. As she was entering her house she said she looked over the garden fence into her neighbor's yard. "I saw a puddle of water and there was a hand. I jumped over the fence and found him," she said.

Neighbor of the young mother, Mrs. Otto Wende, said the septic tank was located at the side of her house. She said the previous Saturday she had walked over the wooden covering and found it safe.

Dr. C. C. Browne of Nanaimo said he was called to the accident scene and after giving artificial respiration for an hour and one-half declared the boy dead. Death, he said, was due to drowning.

Constable Lowell Davidson, RCMP, said the septic tank was covered by three of four boards.

Besides bringing in the accidental death verdict, the jury called for the city's building inspection department to make an investigation of all septic tanks in the area.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . silly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they disintegrate. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

BRING ALONG THAT RUSSIAN—So far as my experience goes—back to 1948—this has definitely been the worst Victoria winter for golf.

At Victoria Golf Club, where I am a member, there have been probably four or five weekends when it has been impossible to play golf. For the folk out at Gorge Vale and Colwood it has been even worse.

But even the salt-laden air at the Oak Bay links has failed at times to keep the links clear of snow, and last weekend, when I [illegible] 18 holes on Sunday, the conditions could hardly be described as pleasant.

Maybe we should get along that Russian scientist who plans to warm the Arctic Ocean. His Bering Straits dam and its nuclear-powered water-heating device seems just the sort of thing we want across the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

Think how nice it would be to mellow out chilly sea breezes, and how comforting too for the Bert Thomas gang of water wrestlers trying to make a cheap trip to the States.

After the Arctic Ocean, surely the warming of the Gulf of Georgia would be just child's play.

PRACTICE TIME RUNS SHORT—Unless the weather relents pretty quickly there are going to be an awful lot of rusty joints swinging in the qualifying round of the Island Open Championship, now only three Sundays away.

The qualifying round this year is at Royal Colwood. The low 32 will qualify for the match play and another 32 will qualify for the handicap section. No player may qualify in both sections.

* * *

KEEN BATTLE FOR MEDAL—Three of Victoria's younger players are filling the top positions in the city's second winter medal, final round of which is due at Colwood Sunday.

In a joint lead at 146 are Bobby Fleming of Gorge and Laurie Kerr of Colwood. Two strokes behind at 148 is Johnnie Merrican of Gorge.

The winner may come from this trio although not out of it by any means is Bill McColl of Colwood. Bill, who won the first winter medal after a tie with Vic Painter, is four strokes off the pace, and for a demon putter and chipper like Bill, and on his own course too, he just cannot be discounted.

SEEMS LIKE FALSE ECONOMY—I suppose the golf ball is just about the most important piece of equipment the golfer possesses, and also the cheapest.

No matter how he hits the ball, if the ball is not good he won't get results.

I have always noted that the top class players always use top quality balls and jettison them in the practice bag as soon as they begin to lose their ping.

Contrast this with many handicap golfers who, in the interests of economy, use second or third grade balls which they pick up in department stores at three for a dollar—or less.

What they are doing is to play with balls which the makers have rejected as imperfect. Some of them may fly as straight and true as the top grade balls, but they are a gamble.

The people who play these balls probably spend hundreds of dollars on other golf equipment. They may play for stakes that are two or three times as high as a first class ball, and they will spend dollars on tuition.

Yet they are willing to risk all this by playing inferior grade balls. Somehow it doesn't make sense to me.

VICTORIA SCHEDULES PROGRAM—The fixture list of the Victoria Golf Club now in the hands of members shows that the season starts Saturday with the annual President vs. Captain match.

The club championship starts April 28 with qualifying rounds in the 1-12 and 13-24 handicap classes. The semi-finals will be played on or before May 21, and the finals, over 36 holes, on May 29.

The Todd Cup is on June 9 and June 16, 36 holes medal; the Rainbow Cup on April 7; the Galt Cup August 25; the junior club championship on Sept. 8 and 15, and the Gibson Cup on Thanksgiving Day.

The Victoria Club will also stage its 54th annual home-and-home team match with Seattle, playing at Victoria on May 26 and at Seattle May 23.

A 16-a-side match with Colwood will be played April 22 at Colwood, and another 16-a-side match is with Uplands at Victoria May 4. Home-and-home games, 12 a side—will be played against Gorge on June 15 at Gorge and June 22 at Victoria.

In addition, the Victoria club will house the Empress tournament, April 16-21, and the Northwest Seniors' tournament, Aug. 13-18.

QUALICUM PRESENTS AWARDS—The Qualicum Beach Club had its annual presentation of awards at the Qualicum Beach Inn the other night.

President R. H. Hodgson made the presentations. Ralph Forrester won the championship with Walter Yeo runner-up. Forrester also won the Money Memorial Trophy and was winner of the first flight of the White trophy, won by Peter Barr with Tom Bonar runner-up.

Ladies' champion and medalist was Ruby Crowley, while Leckie Montgomery won the Money award for low gross and championship as well as taking first flight honors in the club championship. Other winners were Muriel Corfield, second flight championship; Mona Irvine, Boulthee Sweet championship; and Kay Ormond, the Muriel Reid trophy.

Worth the Penalty It Cost

Ray Mikulan, Vancouver rookie who appears a cinch now to lead WHL goal-keepers in goals-against average, scored his fifth shutout of the season last night at Memorial arena when he blanked Victoria Cougars, 3-0. He almost lost his shutout on this play but came sliding out of his net to take the feet from under Fred Wonoski, Victoria rookie who was trying to manoeuvre the puck into the net after moving in fast on a break. Referee Joey Johns called a penalty against Mikulan for tripping but the Cougars couldn't cash in on the odd-man advantage.—(Colonist photo by Jim Ryan)

Canucks Clip Cougars To Regain Top Berth

By JIM TANG

Getting a fine performance from their four defencemen and goalie Ray Mikulan, Vancouver Canucks last night regained the leadership of the Western Division of the Western Hockey League, blanking Victoria Cougars, 3-0, before the largest Memorial arena crowd of the season.

Attracted by the battle for first place and the prizes given away for "Fans' Night," a crowd of 4,625 turned out. They saw a tense, well-played game but most of them went home disappointed when Canucks broke through for their goals in less than five minutes of the first half of the third period.

FIFTH SHUTOUT

It was the fifth shutout for Mikulan, who must have won himself a vote or two for rookie honors with a steady display, and the fifth time the Cougars have been held scoreless this season. Mikulan has been their particular nemesis, shutting the door in three games.

Defeat left the Cougars one point behind the Canucks with five games left for each club. Cougars have two games left with both Seattle Americans and New Westminster Royals and one left with Canucks, who also have two games left with the other two clubs on the Coast. The Vancouver team has the advantage of home ice for its game against the Cougars.

CLOSE CHECKING

For two periods and part of the third, it was anybody's game. Both clubs checked closely and there was a lot of good hockey, particularly in the latter stages of the second period when the game became wide open with the Cougars and then the Canucks getting the upper hand in the search for that all-important first goal.

It finally went to the Canucks at 3.43 of the third period and the Cougars can blame themselves for the sloppy clearing which led to the scoring shot. Their passouts were intercepted twice and the puck was finally batted to George Ford, who golfed a shot from the right side close in which appeared to deflect past Marcel Pelletier.

Canucks were back again from the face-off, coasting in on a three-on-one break from centre ice with Phil Maloney feeding to Tom McCarthy, who found Les Lilley in the clear on the right side of Pelletier. Lilley made no mistake, picking his spot for a hard shot.

OUT OF REACH

McCarthy put it out of reach less than four minutes later, getting the puck from Maloney following a face-off in the Victoria zone and catching Pelletier by surprise with a backhand shot.

Maloney's two assists, both well-earned, boosted his point total to 85 and gave him a three-point lead over New Westminster's Blinky Boyce and Edmonton's Gerry Melnyk.

Mikulan, who started the game with a 2.64 goal average against a 2.70 average for Pelletier, practically sewed up the goaltending honors, as regards the goals-against average. Pelletier is charged with four more goals than the Vancouver rookie and has played one game less. He needs to pick up seven goals in five games to go ahead.

Cougars were handicapped again last night because Doug Anderson, who had been expected to play, was unable to take the ice and because coach Eddie Olson was bothered by a painful ankle injury.

Olson gave it a game battle before being forced to limp off the ice during his first shift in the third period. Obviously in pain, he gave himself the chore of checking Maloney and it was to his credit that the smooth Vancouver centre was held pointless until Olson had to leave. All the Vancouver scoring came after Olson had to shift his lines when he was down to eight forwards.

Door prizes were won by Robert Littlefair, 607 Speed, and Mrs. Stevenson, [illegible] Irma. Littlefair won a mink jacket while Mrs. Stevenson won a complete man's wardrobe.

'Shriners' Night' At Arena Friday

It will be "Shriners' Night" at Memorial arena on Friday and in addition to watching the Cougars tangle with their bitterest rivals, hockey fans will be supplied with extra entertainment by Shriners from Victoria and the mainland.

Officials in charge of the "night" have lined up an interesting program. A plane load of Shriners, dressed in Oriental garb and ready for some new antics, will come over from the mainland. In addition, the colorful 28-piece Oriental band from New Westminster and the Gizeh Temple Band of Victoria will be on hand from the start, for selections before and after the game and between periods.

LIVELY EVENING

There will be a number of stunts between periods and from the program being prepared by city Shriners, there shouldn't be a dull moment in the whole evening. The Cougars and Americans, if past performances are any criterion, will do their parts to make for solid entertainment.

City Shriners are busy selling exchange tickets, which must be exchanged for arena seats at either the Port street office of the Victoria Hockey Club or the Hudson's Bay Co. Game tickets may be purchased at the Cougar offices, if desired, without the prior purchase of exchange tickets.

FOR GOOD CAUSE

Shriners will get all proceeds above $3,750, or approximately everything above 2,800 fans, the average Cougar crowd so far this season. These will be put to good use. The Gizeh Temple annually donates to the Queen Alexandra Solarium a sum between $3,500 and $4,000 and last year, the Shrine Band donated $500 and the Victoria Shrine Club donated $250 to the Solarium building fund. Practically all of the Shriners' efforts are to help the lot of crippled children.

Walsh Tests Phillips Today In Clash of Unbeaten Rinks

MONCTON—Whether or not the Toronto Granite Curling Club rink skipped by Alfie Phillips is a real threat for the Macdonald's Brier tankard or just an aggregation which got away to a fast start may be known by Wednesday morning. The Ontario champions clash with the Manitoba titlists, skipped by Billy Walsh, 1952 Brier champion, in Wednesday's first draw.

Phillips and Walsh will take unbeaten records into Wednesday's game, the first of the "big" games of the last three days which could easily see the final draw decide the new Dominion curling champions.

EDGED QUEBEC

Tuesday, the cigar-smoking Phillips led his rink to two more victories, a 9-8 squeaker over Quebec and an 11-6 win over Northern Ontario to take the lead with a 4-0 record.

Walsh had the bye on Tuesday's morning draw, looked the favorite he is in the afternoon as he polished off the New Brunswick rink skipped by Moncton's Ralph Lister, 16-3.

But while Phillips and Walsh continued unbeaten, there were definite indications that this may be more than a two-way fight before the last rocks are thrown.

BALDWIN IMPROVES

Matt Baldwin's Alberta champions, still not at their best but steadily improving, stayed in the running with two victories. They defeated Newfoundland, 12-7, on the strength of a trio of three-enders, then sneaked by Harold Jordan's B.C. rink, 7-6, to stay in third place with a 3-1 record.

And Saskatchewan, represented by Jimmy Hill and his Delisle clubmates, caught the eyes of all with some brilliant curling. Almost knocked out of contention Monday by losing to New Brunswick and Ontario, the Saskatchewan rink rolled over Prince Edward Island, 15-6, and over Newfoundland, 22-4, with the best curling to date.

INSIDE TRACK

After Tuesday's display, Saskatchewan was given a good chance to end up in a tie for the lead, if Phillips can be stopped twice. However, if Phillips should beat Walsh Wednesday morning, Ontario would have the inside track to succeed Saskatchewan as champions.

After Manitoba, Phillips has by far the easiest path of the rinks which are considered contenders, having played the three strong Prairie rinks.

The way the draw came out, it could well go down to the last game before it is decided. On Thursday, Alberta and Saskatchewan meet in a key game and Friday puts Walsh to his severest test. The Manitoba skip has to wind up by playing Alberta and Manitoba on the last two draws.

FOUR-WAY BATTLE

Concensus now is that the battle is between the above four rinks but Gerry Glinz and his Nova Scotia champions from Truro have only lost once and could figure. However, the Maritime rink still has to play the three Prairie rinks and Walter Smith's Quebec champions, who are proving tough and might yet figure despite a 2-2 showing.

Few observers give any of the other rinks much chance. Newfoundland with four losses, and Prince Edward Island and Northern Ontario, with three setbacks, are almost certainly out of contention and neither New Brunswick nor British Columbia is given much chance although both rinks have lost only twice.

B.C. took a 14-7 trimming from Nova Scotia Tuesday morning, then curled its best game in getting nosed out by Alberta in the afternoon.

EXCITING GAME

Most exciting game Tuesday was the one between Ontario and Quebec. The two rinks were tied up coming home and Smith had two rocks counting with one guard out front when Phillips, who had last rock stepped into the hack for his first shot. He slid by without doing damage and Smith tried to lay a short guard. He was a trifle short and Phillips drew to the back of the four-foot ring with his last rock.

Phillips' rink almost ruined the shot as they swept desperately. They almost dragged the rock too far and a measurement was taken before it was conceded that Phillips had counted the tie-breaking point.

EXTRA-ENDER

Quebec scored on the ninth, 10th and 11th ends to tie Phillips. In his second game, Smith scored three on the 13th end to beat P.E.I. 13-10, in the first extra-ender of the first four draws.

Against Northern Ontario, Phillips was helped by skip Steve Kuzmanski, who just couldn't make the pay-off shot. Kuzmanski had chances for four and five-enders no less than four times and once missed a six-ender.

Mounties Get Another Setback—Home Field Reported Unplayable

Vancouver Mounties, due to make their debut in the Pacific Coast Baseball League this season, yesterday received their second major blow within a week.

Handed a setback when the B.C. legislature wound up its 1956 session last Friday without passing legislation which would enable the Mounties to play Sunday games in Vancouver, the club was jolted again yesterday by reports concerning Capilano Stadium, where the Mounties will play their home games.

Vancouver parks superintendent Phil Stroyan told Vancouver City Council that one third of the field is under water and unless improved drainage is installed, it will not be shape for PCL games by the April 27 opening date.

Cost of putting the field in playable condition would be $30,000, Stroyan said. Mayor Fred Hume stated that Vancouver could not afford to spend that amount and a committee was appointed to look over the field.

Council did, however, approve a deal whereby 2,400 extra seats would be added to bring the stadium seating capacity up to almost 10,000.

Warriors Strengthen Hold on First Place

Winnipeg Warriors strengthened their hold on top of the Western Hockey League's eastern division Tuesday night by defeating Edmonton Flyers, 4-2, before 5,259 Winnipeg fans, for their sixth straight victory.

In a game that started at a rapid pace but became dull and ragged in the third period, Warriors led, 1-0, at the end of the first period, added two more goals to Edmonton's one in the second and split two goals with the Flyers in the final session.

Eric Nesterenko, Mickey Keating, Eddie Mazur and Paul Masnick scored for Warriors, who took a five-point lead over Calgary Stampeders. Billy Dea and Don Poile counted for the Flyers.

INTERCEPTED PASS

Nesterenko scored Winnipeg's first-period tally, intercepting a pass and driving a shot off goalie Dennis Riggin's leg.

Dea tied it for Flyers early in the second but Keating sent the Warriors ahead to stay with a low, screened shot. Mazur, who had missed three great opportunities, made it 3-1 before the period ended.

Masnick rapped in Keating's rebound to give the Warriors a 4-1 advantage before Poile connected for the second Edmonton goal.

Hard-Hitting Calhoun Misses Main Events Despite Fine Record

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP)—They say of Rory Calhoun, the young tiger of the middleweights, that "he can kill you with his right hand and put you in the hospital with his left."

[illegible] for a young fellow who has had only 18 professional bouts. But half of those brawls, all on Calhoun's credit side, have been by knockouts.

Which prompts the question of which is the main event as Ludwig Lightburn battles one L. C. (Mystery) Morgan at Madison Square Garden on Friday night.

TO MEET TESSIER

Calhoun appears in what is billed as the semi-windup against Andre Tessier of Springfield, Mass. It could be quite a bout, because Tessier, another newcomer, has a string of nine going for him which includes six knockouts.

The mystery of the piece in addition to the unknown Morgan, is why the New York State Athletic Commission okayed a feature bout for him and refused to permit Calhoun to battle in a windup event. Because Morgan has appeared in only 15 pro bouts and twice has been defeated.

"I don't know what is going on," growls Calhoun pilot Frank Bachman, who managed such champions as Maxie Rosenbloom, Lew Jenkins and Bob Olin. "I tried to see the commission and Julius Helfand wouldn't talk to me."

But Bachman, while not claiming that Calhoun is ready for such as Ray Robinson or Bobo Olson, does think that his lad is ripe for any number of other hotshots. His particular target is Gene Fullmer.

Certainly Calhoun, who is 21, has come a long piece in a short time. The son of a minister in Atlanta, Ga., and the seventh of 11 children which certainly denotes some sort of mystic good luck under the numerology system, he looms large on the middleweight horizon.

Rory began to box in an Atlanta YMCA while he was working on a farm in the suburbs. Intent on a boxing career, and with the blessings of his mild-mannered father, Calhoun moved to New York to live with an aunt.

He continued his boxing in the Police Athletic League and went to the Golden Gloves finals at Madison Square Garden. Then, in September of 1954, he turned professional after winning 28 of his 30 amateur bouts.

Aggressive, rugged and a deadly puncher, he is likened to the fighters of the old school in that he assertedly learns something in every bout, listens willingly and has to be chased out of the gymnasium.

Bachman flinches at a premature buildup. His theory is that "if they think he is so good, nobody will want to fight him."

But those who have seen him in action rate Calhoun as one of the really great prospects of recent years. If he goes well on Friday night, the commission will have to open the door hearing plenty about this boy.

Formal Dress Compulsory For Toronto's Cup Clash

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Rugby Union has switched to "formal wear." There will be no barelegged players in the Grey Cup final at Toronto next Nov. 24.

The CRU decreed at its annual meeting in Toronto that players in future cup games must wear stockings

"The Grey Cup is a big show and the people paying up to $10 to watch the game are entitled to see the players properly dressed," said CRU president Ken Montgomery of Edmonton.

"Besides, who wants to look at men in their bare legs? It's not a pretty sight."

English Footballers Ready To Strike Big Test for Union Comes Next Week

By JOHN FARROW

LONDON (AP)—England's 2,500 professional footballers are preparing to go on strike against floodlit and televised matches, and the big test comes March 13 when Brentford plays Swindon.

The following night Wolverhampton is due to play Bilbao of Spain. Both matches are under lights.

If players obey their union and refuse to take part then a "war" may follow with the clubs fining or suspending players for breach of contract.

Stanley Cullis, manager of Wolverhampton, said Tuesday: "If my players don't play they will be breaking their contract with the club. It is a pity we are being made the guinea pigs."

Said Billy Wright, Wolverhampton captain: "I can't say what we shall do. This is a very difficult problem. We have about a 90 per cent union membership at Wolverhampton."

Contracts state that a player must turn out for his club whenever required. Friendly matches or floodlit games are not excepted.

WANT NEGOTIATIONS

The union ordered players to boycott televised and floodlit matches until the Football Association and Football League agree to meet the union and negotiate special pay rates.

England's weekly league program with matches every Saturday is not affected. But there are other implications to the double ban. Here they are:

1. The British Broadcasting Company has negotiated an agreement to televise the cup final May 5. A players' boycott would mean either no television or no cup final.

2. The England B vs Switzerland B match at Southampton March 21 is another game due to be televised.

3. The end of league matches under the lights.

4. The end of floodlit friendlies between English teams and foreign visitors.

UNION CONFIDENT

A statement by the union said: "The position will be reviewed constantly in the light of events."

"And this means that unless the league and the Football Association do start talking terms then the next and inevitable step will be a complete strike," comments The Daily Mirror.

The union is confident that all its members will obey the ban. "We have nearly a 100 per cent membership in league clubs and are so sure none of the players will defy the ban that we did not even discuss what action we should take if any players did.

LONDON (AP)—Arsenal defeated Preston North End 3-2 on Tuesday night in London's first floodlit English League soccer game. A crowd of 34,672 attended the first division match.

Canadian Scottish of the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association Division II will hold a workout at 8 Thursday night on the Lower Beacon Hill park pitch.

All players are requested to attend.

High Cost of Land Dims Possible Home Price Drop

OTTAWA (CP)—High land costs dim prospects of any general decline in the price of new homes in the immediate future, says Stewart Bates, president of the crown - owned Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

The actual cost of house construction may decline, he told the Gordon economic commission Tuesday. But this decline likely would be offset by the increasing cost of land.

With indications of a continuing heavy demand for new homes, land speculators were active particularly in the fringe areas of cities and towns, the government's housing chief added.

It appeared that this active speculation in land will continue "for some time."

Mr. Bates touched on prices and costs in reply to commission questions and in elaboration on the CMHC brief forecasting the housing picture for Canada over the next 25 years.

Basing its predictions on a 10,500,000 increase in population to 26,500,000 by 1980, CMHC considered that most of the population increase will take place in cities and towns, turning Canada mostly into a country of city dwellers.

Alaska, purchased by the United States from Russia in 1867, has a land area of 571,000 square miles.

Killer, Leukemia

Child Will Join Sister in Death

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (UP)—Two-year-old Kathleen Jo Van Lopik, whose identical twin sister died of leukemia nine days ago, has gone home to await death from the same disease.

Kathleen and her sister, Eileen, were taken to hospital two weeks ago when it was learned both girls suffered from the incurable blood disease. Doctors said it was a "once-in-a-million" medical rarity that both were stricken.

It was Eileen's fourth—and last—trip to the hospital. Critically ill, she was placed in an oxygen tent in which she died Feb. 26.

A plot for Kathleen was marked beside her sister's grave.

The twins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Van Lopik, both 25, say Kathleen has not yet missed her sister.

The Van Lopiks—a deeply religious couple—believe Kathleen will ask where her sister is when she has been home for awhile.

"When she asks about Eileen, we'll just tell her she is in heaven with Jesus," she said.

Man's Isolation from Man 'Tragic Modern Phenomenon'

CHARLOTTETOWN (CP)—Rev. Frank MacKinnon, principal of Prince of Wales College here, says that the breakdown of communications between individuals is "one of the great tragic phenomena of modern times."

He said news came from syndicated columns, opinions were formed by commentators—always someone else's summary.

There was no question of the enormous benefits all these mass media could bring, but the danger was that they could be misused by those who hand out the information or entertainment, and also by those who use them.

"They can become masters of people very easily," he said. "Goebbels proved that."

Finlayson Replies

Martin's Attack 'Childish, Silly'

VANCOUVER (CP)—Duncan Finlayson, provincial leader of the Progressive Conservatives, Tuesday labelled as "childish and silly" an attack on his party by federal Health Minister Martin.

Mr. Martin, in a speech here Monday, said the Liberals have party is "bankrupt and completely non-existent."

"Mr. Martin belongs to a great party but his remarks indicate a pretty small, petty attitude," Mr. Finlayson said. "The voters of Canada—not Mr. Martin — will decide whether the Liberals or any other party has outlived its usefulness."

Of a charge that George Drew, Conservative leader, had tried to form an alliance with the CCF and Social Credit groups to defeat the Liberals, Mr. Finlayson said, Mr. Drew invited voters, not parties, to support the Conservative party."

H. C. Gilliland and Dr. F. Henry Johnson Given UBC Education College Posts

Two Victorians have received new appointments in connection with the University of B.C. college of education which will open classes in September.

H. C. Gilliland, principal of the Victoria Normal School, will be director of teacher education of Victoria College, the college council has announced.

HONORARY PROFESSOR

Dr. N. A. M. MacKenzie, president of UBC, announced yesterday that Mr. Gilliland will also be an honorary professor of the university.

Dr. MacKenzie also announced the appointment of Dr. F. Henry Johnson, until recently assistant second director and co-ordinator of teacher training for the education department, as director of elementary education at the university. Dr. Johnson has gone to Vancouver to assume his new post.

Dean N. V. Scarfe, at present dean of education at the University of Manitoba, has been appointed dean of the new college of education. He will take over his new duties July 1.

CENSORSHIP DIRECTOR

Now 48, Dean Scarfe was 19 when he placed first in the final examinations for the bachelor of arts degree in the British system at the University of London. He was director of press censorship in the ministry of information in London in the Second World War, senior lecturer and department head at the University of London institute of education from 1935 to 1951, and is a noted geographer.

Dr. MacKenzie announced three other appointments. Dr. J. R. McIntosh of Vancouver will be director of secondary teacher education. Dr. K. F. Argue of Vancouver will be director of the university summer school, including the summer session for the college of education, and F. C. Boyes of Vancouver will be director of student teaching.

In the new teacher training setup a Victoria student with junior matriculation will be able to gain an elementary certificate in two years at Victoria College. Another two years at the college of education in Vancouver can lead to a degree, or another three years at UBC the college of education to a degree of bachelor of secondary education qualifying the student to teach in secondary schools.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special) — For the first time a science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain. Thousands have been relieved—without resort to surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "I can have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. Discovered in a new healing substance (the Dyne®), the discovery is a fluorescent ointment for rectal use, for healing injured tissue in all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Nails Pulled With Pliers

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (UP)—A burglar took $4000 from an Evansville surgeon in his home Tuesday and then tortured him with a pair of pliers in an effort to find more money.

The victim was Dr. Justin F. Wynn, 69. The attacker tried to yank at his thumbnails with the pliers and gouged chunks of flesh out of his fingers.

An hour later police arrested Donald Lockwood, 31, who they said was a nephew of a brother-in-law of Wynn.

Freed of Disease—His Greatest Joy Is Walking

Two leprosy patients are living in isolation on Bentinck Island off Rocky Point. One hopes to leave soon to lead a near normal life at home. This is the other, who from an infection standpoint could leave but who is 76 and has no suitable place to go. He enjoys his own cooking.

He also enjoys tending to his own garden outside his two-room cottage. Here Mrs. Evelyn Worsley, the nurse stationed on the island, watches as he inspects his new crops. He doesn't speak much English, but he sees "garden" with enthusiasm.

His bedroom is plain but scrupulously clean, and he takes pride in it as he takes pride in his equally clean and bright kitchen-living room. An oil stove heats the kitchen cook's warm all the time, and an opening in the wall keeps the bedroom warm enough to sleep in.

His greatest joy is that he can walk. When he first came to Bentinck he couldn't. Leprosy was affecting the nerves of his legs. But modern treatment has arrested the leprosy, and now he makes his way happily and with a fair turn of speed up and down the graveyard paths. (Courier photos by Jim Ewart)

Lepers' Ancient Cry Silenced by Sulfa

By R. O. MARRION

Does the ancient cry "Unclean! Unclean!" echo in your mind when you hear of leprosy?

It needn't, and it shouldn't.

Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh were given the utmost protection when they visited Australia during the 1953 poliomyelitis outbreak. But the Queen and the Duke recently walked unprotected in Nigeria among 1,000 lepers.

Dr. R. B. Jenkins, medical officer at the Women's Army Head quarters station across the quarantine vessel Suncar I to get over a sick sailor. It was Bentinck island.

In isolation on the island two lepers are being treated.

One will return soon, Dr. Jenkins thinks, to a near normal life in his home community. The other, an elderly, good-humored little Chinese, will stay there—not because he might infect others, but because he is happier and better off on the island than he ever could be in some small room in a big city.

Sulfa drugs are responsible for lepers being able to go home, for removing the lepers' fears.

When sulfa was first used experimentally about 10 years ago, [illegible] were expected to live six months or so, but there are definite beneficial results within these months.

The successful use of sulfa by lepers said, means that lepers could be arrested and patients could go home. Leprosy no longer meant exile, should carry no stigma.

Sulfa has been used on Bentinck island for about 10 years, and in the past eight years or so, six patients have been released to go home. That figure seems low at first sight, but in recent years there have never been more than three patients on the island at one time.

No Sign of Germs

Patients to be released must have no skin lesions and monthly laboratory tests for a year before release must show no leprosy germs.

Continued observation and treatment after release makes sure there will be no relapse.

Leprosy, Dr. Jenkins said as the Salmian I headed into the narrow channel between Rocky point and Bentinck, is about the least communicable of communicable diseases.

The leprosy germ, he said, was virtually indistinguishable from the tuberculosis germ, and leprosy should be thought of in the same light as tuberculosis and other similar chronic infections.

The leprosy germ attacks the skin and nerves, but not the central nervous system, where tuberculosis germs attack, by predilection, the lungs.

Leprosy germs, he said, could not be [illegible] outside the body. Infection [illegible] only be by [illegible] contact.

Capt. [illegible] Wm. [illegible] the station alongside the Bentinck island [illegible] and for [illegible] years a [illegible] of 17 years at William Head, and the wife to the comfortable home of Mrs. Evelyn Worsley, who has been nurse on the island for nearly four years.

Mrs. Worsley, grey haired but young faced, shares the island with Roy Thomas, the caretaker, and his wife and the two patients.

The [illegible] patient was working [illegible] when he first came to Bentinck. Now he works with pride and pleasure.

In his spotless cottage red trefoil, lemon and green outside and cream and grey inside, he [illegible] the demonstrated [illegible] he has [illegible] meals on an oil stove. He showed again [illegible] he displayed the neat cleanliness of his bedroom.

On a shelf near the stove stood a small radio. Near it was a large phonograph of 1920s vintage. But beside that again, and apparently much more in use, was an ancient Edison phonograph with one cylindrical record in place and a cardboard box full of cylinders on the same table.

The happy old man could go along to the recreation room with the others to watch television.

Old Records Favorite

The elderly man could not walk [illegible] when he first came to Bentinck. Now he walks with pride and pleasure.

The happy old man could go along to the recreation room with the others to watch television on the set donated by The Daily Colonist's readers a few years ago. [illegible] he doesn't [illegible] for [illegible] more.

Also available in the recreation room are a dart board and a [illegible] of [illegible] Mrs. [illegible] for anything [illegible] the [illegible] wanted to know what else to send they might consider an electric kitchen clock or two or folding canvas chairs.

There are still mysteries to be solved in connection with leprosy, Dr. Jenkins said.

The mysteries make it a fascinating disease to study, he said, but the big mystery that used to make its name fearsome — the mystery of how to halt it — has been solved.

Victorians Tell What I'd Do

'. . . If I Had a Million . . .'

By BRUCE LOWTHER

He doesn't want a million dollars, but if you forced it on him, Courtney Haddock would devote at least half of it to a novel scheme of his own to help senior citizens.

Said the Woodward's store manager and Community Chest president: "I wouldn't ruin my health and my philosophy in life to get a million just for the sake of getting it."

However, if it came, something like half of it would be placed at the disposal of clubs composed of the "many thousands getting the old age pension who don't need it."

"They would assign their cheques to a central distributing agency or some government department to be divided among pensioners who do need it.

COURTNEY HADDOCK

"These people are proud; there's more genteel poverty than we will ever know. But they need not know the actual person who helped them and the giver needn't know who they helped.

"Maybe it's just wishful dreaming, but this slow starvation some have now is an awful indictment for our way of life."

As his enthusiasm grew, Mr. Haddock came up with suggestions for an insignia and a name, "from some text in the Bible."

"Let's get a few volunteers right here," he urged. "A thing like that might sweep across the nation."

BEAUTY & YOU

By MARIAN MATTHEWS

Just about this time of year, you may feel that something rather special will pick up your spirits and boost your beauty rating. Perhaps a series of facials would turn the trick; body massage is another excellent morale booster at this time — or would a new permanent give you a lift? The latter is easy and the least expensive, I might add, and if you follow directions to the letter you should have a very professional new coiffure!

With each new home permanent appearing on the market, [illegible] it seems they get easier to handle. New this month is the all-lanolized home permanent which contains lanolin in the waving lotion, in the end papers and in the neutralizer. All you do is wind the hair and use the neutralizer—drip waiting, test curls and towel wraps are eliminated.

Available for both pin-curl and regular roll-up type waves, it has a pleasant fragrance free of harsh ammonia odor. Special pins for no-stain curling are designed for the pin-curl permanent; specially-designed curlers are for difficult back hair. A new, speedy neutralizer is just poured on the hair. With this curl, it is reported, you can safely dry hair in the sun or under an electric dryer instead of waiting for hair to dry itself.

Take good care of your hair before and after a permanent — home or professional type — by brushing it and using a cream rinse to make it completely manageable.

10 Minutes a Day . . . For Two Years

Action, Not Promises, Remold Figure

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY

NEW YORK (UP) — The week when most of us exercise the recommended 10 minutes for seven days running (and bending and kicking), is next week.

Put off till tomorrow calls [illegible] but bad figures. Easy chairs are full of 'em.

Sometimes a pep talk by an expert who paints a glowing future picture of the shape we could be in inspires action. Just such an expert passed through here the other day on her way from a day-long calisthenics demonstration in New Jersey to her own body-shaping headquarters in nearby White Plains, N.Y.

"Give me 10 minutes a day and within two years I can take 15 years off the age of your body," she said.

Naturally, we immediately promised to provide the 10 daily minutes.

Bonnie Prudden looked unconvinced. Promises she gets all the time. But people who actually do devote 10 minutes each day ("not every day but Sunday, but every day," she said) to proper exercises for their figures are hard to find.

Miss Prudden is 42 years old with a figure at least 15 years younger. She is director of the Institute of Physical Fitness in White Plains, and the author of a book soon to be published called "Is your child really fit?"

She says "forget how much you weigh" when you start trying to re-shape yourself. It's the measurements that count. She gets as many people who are the proper weight, yet out of shape, as she does overweight people. Her pupils are from four years to 80 years old. "It is never too late," she said. "It is sometimes easier for me to get a woman of 35 in shape than to shape up her 13-year-old daughter," Miss Prudden said.

She says the average woman past 30 who comes to her institute has weak and soft abdominal muscles and is beginning to get excess fat at the hipline and the waistline. Many ask her how to keep the upper part of their arms firm. (She recommends "simple pushups" for the latter problem, beginning with only letting your body down to the floor slowly and the pushing up later.) "I give women a variety of exercises," said the body-building mother of two daughters. "You should see women of 65 skip across the floor and do African dances after a few months."

Novelist Says . . .

Carefree Youth Best Grounding for Wife

BY SYLVIA HALE

LONDON (CP) — "If you lead a carefree life in your youth you make a better wife," says Constance Tomkinson.

For Miss Tomkinson, daughter of [illegible], it was a carefree youth. She had a lot of fun in her younger days dancing in French nightclubs, and wound up happily married to a British businessman.

Most of her dancer friends married well too — one to an atom physicist, another to a barrister, and one to a peer.

Now Miss Tomkinson, who was born in Cape, N.S., has written a book called "Les Girls" based on her dancing career on the continent which started when she crashed the Follies Bergeres in the '30s.

"It was hard work dancing the can-can at the Bal Tabarin," says the tall blonde, now 40. "And I remember nearing on jumping the splits by landing on my hands while flouncing down my skirt to hide them."

She also recalls the time she was bitten by one of the dogs dragging Negro singer Josephine Baker's sledge in an Arctic scene on stage.

"I overturned the sledge and Miss Baker. But she carried on as if nothing had happened and just said 'Don't worry, dear.'"

Today Miss Tomkinson is married to a British business executive, Hugh Weeks, and has a twenty-year-old daughter, Jane, who is already showing signs of wanting to be a dancer.

In her lovely early 19th century house in a sedate part of London, Constance worked on her book for 18 months.

"I sat in the attic for days before I could put a word on paper," she says, "but I finally started and nothing could stop me."

She keeps in touch with many of her former companions.

"Dancing girls were always my best friends, such a wild mixture—so very kind and comical."

Constance met her husband when working for the British ministry of supply in New York. In her varied career she has been assistant to Tyrone Guthrie, director of the Old Vic Theatre, and secretary to the Sadler's Wells Ballet Company.

"Now I am hoping to write more novels," she says. Her mother, Grace Tomkinson, also a novelist, wrote "Her Own People" and "Wednesday's Child."

Why your child needs your help when pimples strike

by MARCELLA HOLMES
NOTED BEAUTY AUTHORITY
Former Beauty Editor of Common Magazine

Of all the mail that reaches a beauty editor's desk, there is none so urgent as letters from adolescent girls with pimples. That's why I want to alert mothers to the double dangers of this problem. Specialists warn that pimples undermine poise and self-confidence, can cause permanent damage to a child's personality. And everyone knows that acne-type pimples, if neglected, can leave permanent scars on the skin.

Is there a way you can help your child? Yes, thanks to CLEARASIL, a modern, scientific medicated formulation especially for pimples. In actual clinical tests CLEARASIL brought positive relief in a high percentage of cases.

Unsuccessful, frustrating anti-acne [illegible] CLEARASIL dries pimples surprisingly fast. Ends embarrassment immediately because CLEARASIL is skin-colored to hide pimples as it works. Must work for you as it does in clinical tests or money back. Only 69c and $1.19 at all druggists.

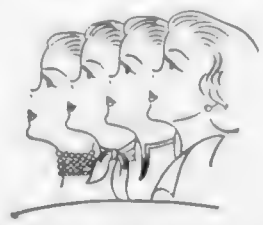
A LOVELIER YOU

By Mary Sue Miller



FOR SLIM-JANES. Clothes may not make the girl, but the right clothes are the making of a long, thin neck. If that's your complaint wear a dress with a mandarin collar or a coat with a mandarin collar and your neck will appear inches shorter. To perk it up, use a chunky choker or a twist of chiffon pretty tied.

And compliment yourself lucky for being able to carry off those choices. They are not all flattering but fashion and individuality counts. Too, she that dared, damsel would dare attempt them, so do make the most of the edge when selecting your springtime wardrobe.

Bringing Up Baby

HINTS COLLECTED BY Mrs. Dan Gerber (MOTHER OF 5)

"Is there really a Mrs. Gerber or is she a made-up person?" That's a question that pops up in ever so many letters. Well, there's nothing fictional about me or my family. I'm a very much alive proud mother of five — and a delighted grandmother of six. It's a busy but rewarding life, and the lot of us love every minute of it.

Suggestion box. Many of our suggestions come from mothers just like you. Any hints you'd like to share? Write to: Mrs. Dan Gerber, Box 4027, Terminal "A", Toronto, Ont.

Follow-up course. It's amazing how soon a baby needs new additions to his milk or formula diet. Perhaps your doctor already has suggested orange juice for the vitamin C so vital to sound gums and body tissues. Gerber Strained Orange Juice has a guaranteed high vitamin C content — is particularly mild and pleasant tasting. Made from tree-ripened oranges packed at the peak of flavor. Naturally, it's carefully pasteurized and finely strained.

Multiple-use dept. Spanking clean diapers serve nicely as carriage sheets, shoulder pads when you bubble baby, head pads to protect crib sheets from spit-ups, hand towels for between-bath clean ups.

All through the early years enriched cereals are a must for the growing baby. Gerber ready-to-serve baby cereals not only provide the energy-giving calories active young ones need, but they're fortified with iron, calcium and important B vitamins to more than whole grain value. Rotate Rice, Barley, Oatmeal, Wheat and Mixed Cereal for meal-time interest.

TV Talk

By ROY FARRETT

According to Bill Ewald, staff correspondent for United Press, producers of "The $64,000 Question" have given up their search for a glamour girl with brains.

Three hundred girls were screened for the show, but none measured up to the show's standard.

Which is a challenge that the ladies probably won't tolerate for long.

This city boasts nine color sets, almost half the total in the Dominion.

Disarmament Talks Resume

LONDON (UP)—The world's five major atomic powers will meet here March 19 for another round of disarmament talks, official British sources said Tuesday.

Informants said Britain invited the United States, France, Canada and Soviet Russia to the conference in line with the recommendation of the recent United Nations general assembly meeting.

They added that representatives of the four western powers will meet in London next week to align disarmament policy in advance of the conference.

Coppers Lose Favor

VANCOUVER — B.C. copper stocks ran into some disfavor with losses general but varying in degree. A drop of 26 cents to 1.30 in Trojan and of 8 cents to 50 cents in Quatsino Copper led the downswing, but Granduc, Bethlehem, Jackson Basin and Vananda were also lower.

Canadian Collieries were higher at $13¼.

Pacific Petr at $13⅝, Canadian Atlantic at 6.25, Charter at 1.90, Home "A" at 13½, C and E at $28, Basco at 64 cents and Futurity at 50 cents were all ahead. Trans Mountain was $50.

In industrials B.C. Forest Products was fractionally higher at $17, and Westagn Plywood was active at $21¾.

Educator Deplores Cult of Conformity

Today's college graduates seek security in employment rather than the opportunity for advancement in new fields, says Dr. Charles J. Armstrong.

Dr. Armstrong, born in Victoria, is now president of Pacific University, Pacific Grove, Ore.

He told a public meeting of Victoria branch of the University extension Association: "What happens to our educational system will eventually happen to America.

"The future of our education depends on the production in the universities of creative nonconformists.

"Conformity is becoming a cult, a form of religion, which industry and business, particularly advertising, builds upon.

"If conformity becomes a philosophy, a belief, we are in danger of losing what has built our society."

Dr. Armstrong said it was the individual who breaks through the shell of conformity, the insidious cult of mediocrity, who dreams, builds and creates on a foundation of faith.

Five Sons Bear Mother On Last Trip

Mrs. Amos, who died suddenly at her home, 1221 Rockland, March 2, was the widow of the late Ernest Lambert Amos.

Born in Yorkshire, England, 85 years ago, she came with her husband and family to Canada in 1906.

They lived in Saskatchewan for many years, and came to Victoria 20 years ago from the Okanagan.

Mrs. Amos is survived by five sons, six daughters, 29 grandchildren and 39 great-grandchildren.

Services were held from the McCall Bros' Funeral Chapel with Rev. Canon C. Downer officiating. Interment followed at Royal Oak.

The company's 44th annual report, released during the weekend by president Edward C. Wood, said sales increased substantially during the year. Profit equalled 85 cents a share, compared with 73 cents at the end of 1954.

Religious Film Outdraws Gable, Russell, Monroe

NEW YORK (UP)—A religious revival is swamping Clark Gable, Jane Russell and Marilyn Monroe at the movie theatre box offices, Hollywood's chief censor reported Tuesday night.

Geoffrey Shurlock, director of the motion picture industry's production code administration, said that the movie "A Man Called Peter," based on the life of a Protestant minister, was 20th Century-Fox studio's biggest money-maker last year.

The movie's stars, who pressed Marilyn Monroe in "The Seven Year Itch," Clark Gable and Jane Russell in "The Tall Men," and Jennifer Jones and William Holden in "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing," Shurlock said.

Shurlock discussed the state of Protestantism in Hollywood movies in a speech at a dinner meeting of the National Council of Churches' broadcasting and film commission.

"The Robe," another religious film, now ranks second only to 'Gone With the Wind" as the all-time Hollywood money-maker, he said.

Shurlock said its screenplay was worked out by a Roman Catholic, a rabbi and an Episcopalian woman. Every story conference opened with a prayer.

Hollywood has been criticized by some persons for failing to make many films about Protestants or Protestantism, Shurlock said. But unfortunately, he said, there are few appropriate stories available.

Until last year, Shurlock said, such films as "One Foot in Heaven," Stars in My Crown," and "I'd Climb the Highest Mountain," all of them about Prostestant ministers, "had not proved to be exactly box-office bomb-shells."

But, he said, "Martin Luther," and "A Man Called Peter" gave Protestant themes a tremendous boost.

The mosque and university of El-Azhar at Cairo, Egypt's principal seat of Koranic learning, was founded in AD 972.

Carmen Realistic

BIRMINGHAM, England (CP)—A policeman heard screams as he passed the Theatre Royal. He dashed in through the stage door and was in the wings before a stagehand stopped him and told him the screams came from Constance Shacklock, who was playing Carmen.

In the first act, after she is told she will be arrested, Carmen screams—and that was what the policeman heard.

Schools 'At Home'

Mother Is Invited —To Look and Listen

By DAVID BROWN

The idea of opening classroom doors to parents this Education Week is to enable Mother to observe how Miss Smith is doing her part in moulding a future generation.

When the mothers in Greater Victoria call in at the 40 schools which will be open in the area for at least a half-day this week, they will not find specially laid out exhibits of crayon work or penmanship.

They will not hear recitations polished for the occasion and will not be urged to discuss the problems of Johnny and Mary with Miss Smith.

What they will see is the routine daily classroom procedure—the precise manner in which another day's experience is grasped and added to a child's total knowledge.

Classrooms in two district schools, Macaulay and Tillicum, were opened to parents yesterday. The others will be open today, Thursday and Friday.

At Tillicum yesterday morning, there were two to four mothers congregated at the rear of the lower grades classrooms, standing or sitting in silence as a written spelling quiz was given.

SMALL GROUP BEST

The small group of observers is "really as much as we like to have," Tillicum principal W. J. Kitley said. "With larger groups the classroom procedure usually suffers and the children become self-conscious."

Mr. Kitley said that mothers are not expected to take time of the teachers during their brief visit.

"There are other times during the year for discussion of problems," he said. But the principal added that he is drawn into discussions while directing parents from one class to the next.

"Mothers often are troubled but they don't feel the troubles warrant a visit. When they come, they are glad they did," Mr. Kitley said.

The following schools will be open to parents today:

Oak Bay High, all day; Cedar Hill, 9.15 a.m. to 12 noon; McKenzie Avenue, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.; View Royal, 9.30 a.m. to 11.30 a.m. and 1.15 to 2.30 p.m.; Esquimalt High, 1.15 to 3.15 p.m.; Mt. View High, all afternoon; Central Junior High, 1 to 3 p.m.; S. J. Willis Junior High, 1.30 to 4.30 p.m.

Bank street, 1 to 3 p.m.; Burnside, 1.15 p.m. onwards; Cloverdale, all afternoon; Craigflower, 1.15 p.m. onwards; Doncaster, 1.30 to 3 p.m.; Frank Hobbs, 1.30 p.m. onwards; George Jay, all afternoon; James Bay, all afternoon; Lampson Street, 1.30 to 3 p.m.

Margaret Jenkins, 1 to 3 p.m.; Monterey Avenue, 2 p.m. onwards; North Ward, 1 to 3 p.m.; Oak Bay Elementary, all afternoon; Oaklands, all afternoon; Quadra, 2 p.m. onwards; Quadra Primary, 1 to 3 p.m.

Sir James Douglas, 1.15 to 3 p.m.; South Park, all afternoon; Strawberry Vale, 1 to 3 p.m.; Tillicum, 1 to 3 p.m.; Tolmie, 1.30 to 3 p.m.; Victoria West, all afternoon; Willows, 2 to 4 p.m.

Rainier's Father 'Just Old Friend'

PALM BEACH (UP)—International socialite Audrey Emery, married twice previously to royalty, denied emphatically Tuesday that she will become Grace Kelly's mother-in-law by marrying her third prince.

She said she and Prince Pierre, father of Prince Rainier III of Monaco, are "old friends but we have no such plans as marriage."

Miss Emery, who was named as one of the most beautiful women in the United States in 1930, said the report probably started after the prince visited here twice this winter and "because I sold my Palm Beach home."

Miss Emery's first two husbands were Russian princes.

Film Makers Can't Repeat Deadly Slide

WALLACE, Idaho (AP)—A motion picture company which wanted to restage last week's Burke canyon snowslide got a cold reception and a negative reply from Sheriff Lewis Gardner.

Gardner said representatives of the company proposed setting off a slide, with proper safeguards, and then photographing it. The unidentified film company suggested blasting huge snow cones that overhang the canyon to touch off the avalanche.

One person was killed and 18 others temporarily trapped by a snowslide that struck the nearby community of Mace in Burke canyon Friday.

Overwhelming Vote

Law Passed To Rearm Germany

BONN (AP)—The Bundestag Tuesday approved permanent legislation to rearm West Germany for the defence of Europe.

By an overwhelming vote on show of hands the lower house passed the "soldier's law" which will permit the fast buildup of a powerful Germany army, navy and air force.

Fourteen constitutional amendments intended to clamp firm civilian controls on the armed forces were passed by a vote of 390 to 20.

This mass of legislation now goes to the Bundesrat (upper house) for final parliamentary approval. The Bundesrat is expected to act March 16.

APPROVAL CERTAIN

Barring a major political upset, Bundesrat approval is considered certain.

Socialists joined Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's supporters in pushing through the amendments.

Deputies proclaimed that they would prevent the armed forces from again becoming a "state within a state," as they were called under the Weimar republic that preceded Hitler.

The "soldier's law" authorizes the government to recruit an elite cadre of 150,000 volunteers. They will form the backbone of the projected 500,000-man armed force.

Called "The Constitution of the German Soldier," the law also spells out the rights and duties of soldiers, sailors and airmen.

Earlier, the House shouted approval of 14 constitutional amendments clamping civilian controls on the armed forces to prevent a revival of militarism.

'Crime' Reduced

LEON TROTSKY

Meticulous revision of the history of communism in Russia has now reduced the crimes of Leon Trotsky from high treason to simple disagreement. Arch enemy of the late Joseph Stalin, he was assassinated in Mexico in 1940 where he had fled after being exiled for being such things as a "spy," a "traitor" and an "enemy of the people." The Academic Journal in Moscow now says simply that Trotsky was in "ideological conflict" with V. I. Lenin. Although the Journal did not cleanse Trotsky of the stigma of deviation from teachings of Marx and Lenin, it abstained from the normal method of denunciation.

Victoria, Nanaimo Mayors Give Idea Warm Approval

Victoria and Nanaimo should put away their shooting irons and make a joint effort to develop Vancouver Island, Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow said in Nanaimo last night. Mayors of the two cities heartily agreed.

"A joint committee should be set up between the two cities to further the interests of the Island as a whole," he proposed.

ATTRACT MORE

"We must attract more industry, more tourists and more of those thousands of individuals who retire each year in the eastern provinces.

"Victoria and Nanaimo should get together to sell the Island's greatest asset—its climate.

"Instead of fighting one another, north and south should combine as a single unit."

The idea was supported by Mayor Percy B. Scurrah, of Victoria, and Mayor Earle C. Westwood, of Nanaimo. "I think we should go ahead with it," said Mayor Scurrah.

GOOD FOR US

"It stands to reason that what is good for the Island is good for us," he said. "If population, industry and the tourist trade increase on the Island we'll get our share.

"That is why our publicity bureau has boosted the northern part of the Island consistently.

Said Mayor Westwood: "Such a plan is long overdue and we should welcome it wholeheartedly.

"We should band together in an all-out drive to boost the potentialities of the Island as a whole.

"Secondary industries would be of tremendous benefit to our Island, but to get them requires a united effort on the part of all Island communities."

Mayor Westwood suggested the first step in a joint effort could be taken through the Vancouver Island Municipalities Association in co-operation with representatives from chambers of commerce of all Island centres.

"This part of B.C. is the California of Canada," he added, "but this fact is too little known in the east.

"I'm sure we in the upper part of the Island would join with Victoria in a campaign to advertise the Island as a whole."

Halifax Students' March Protests Weapon Shipment

HALIFAX (BUP)—A group of Jewish students from Dalhousie University staged a demonstration last night on the Halifax waterfront, protesting the shipment of arms to the Middle East.

The main objects of the demonstration were five large crates in a shed on Pier 20. The crates contained Harvard training planes assembled in Canada and destined for Egypt. The demonstration was an orderly one.

The student group of about 20 bore placards with slogans declaiming "Israel Is the Only Snipments to the Middle East." "Death to War." "End All Arms Shipments to the Middle East."

SONGS, DANCES

Some 15 of the students danced the "Hora," Israeli national dance, while the remainder circled the crates.

A spokesman for the group said the demonstration was a spontaneous one. He said the object was not so much to protest shipment of arms to Egypt but to stop the arms traffic from Canada to the Middle East and thereby prevent any aggressor making war.

The five crates are slated to be shipped on board the Egypt-bound freighter Wonogri.

The shipment of Harvards is the second from Halifax. The first, in mid-January, sparked a heated debate in the House of Commons over the whole question of arms shipments to the Middle East.

NEWCASTLE - UNDER - LYME, England (UP)—Princess Margaret has accepted a job as university president.

Dead are Edward Johnson and his sisters Barbara, 3, and Dixie, 14 months.

'Won't Send Arms'

OTTAWA (CP) — No Canadian arms will be shipped to the Middle East until the situation there eases, Prime Minister St. Laurent told the Commons Tuesday.

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC, (PC—Esquimalt - Saanich) had asked whether the government would consider reimposing its ban on arms shipments to the Middle East.

Mr. St. Laurent said no arms are being shipped to that region at this time. Requests for arms would be considered but not acted upon until the Middle East situation improved.

In reply to a further question, by Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglinton), the prime minister said the only application for arms now before the government is one from Israel for 25-pounder ammunition.

Dying of Cancer 'Killer' Confesses

FT. WAYNE, Ind. (UP)—An elderly cancer victim voluntarily confessed to a 47-year-old murder in Pennsylvania yesterday because he wanted "to get right with the Lord" before he dies.

White-haired Albert Hayes, 75, walked into the police station and told police chief Mitchell Cleveland the fatal shooting of a Turtle Creek, Pa., farmer in 1909 had been on his conscience and that he was dying of cancer.

Health Department Queried:

Civil Servants' Breakfasts As Important as Aged Diet?

OTTAWA (CP)—The health department has been asked whether the diet of old-age pensioners is causing as much concern as the breakfasts of federal civil servants.

Stanley Knowles, CCF member for Winnipeg North Centre, seeks the information in a question on the Commons order paper. The inquiry is based on a statement in the 1954-55 annual report of the health department.

The report says the department, in co-operation with the civil service commission, has launched a better breakfast project among civil servants in Ottawa.

The project was started after a survey by nursing counsellors disclosed that many government workers do not eat a breakfast satisfactory to health.

Mr. Knowles said Tuesday he is not opposed to the survey. However, he said, the department apparently doesn't know that many old-age pensioners are unable to have adequate meals at any time of the day.

His question asks for the results of the survey of the breakfast habits of civil servants and whether recommendations from the study will be published.

The Winnipeg CCF member also asks if a survey is being made to determine whether old-age pensioners are eating adequate breakfasts or "adequate meals at any time." He suggests that if no survey is being made one should be undertaken immediately.

'Creeping Paralysis Of Socialism' Cited

OTTAWA (CP) — The publicly-owned Canadian National Railways and Trans-Canada Air Lines are bringing "the creeping paralysis of socialism to Canada," a Social Credit member said Tuesday in the Commons.

George Hahn, New Westminster, said TCA refuses to permit competition from privately-owned air services. The CNR was trying to put truckers out of business by its own trucking service carried "piggy back" on railway flatcars.

"We have there the creeping paralysis of socialism."

Mr. Hahn said an application by Pacific Western Airlines to run a cross-country air coach service had been denied because TCA knew it would lead to cheaper fares. Scandinavian Air Services flew a polar route to Europe, through Winnipeg, but travellers there were denied the right to use it.

"We are so gradually becoming conditioned to nationalization we shall be nationalized before we are aware of it."

Arab Leaders Meet

Arab-Israeli War Fever Rises; Ben-Gurion Blames U.S., Russia

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion declared Tuesday the danger of a second Arab-Israeli war has increased. He expressed confidence Israel would ultimately win any such test.

Against a shifting pattern of Middle East events, Ben-Gurion told his parliament the chances of preventing war "are somewhat smaller now" and, if bloodshed comes, the United States and Soviet Russia will share the moral responsibility.

It was his first statement since British Lt.-Gen. Sir John Glubb was removed last Thursday as the commander of Jordan's Arab Legion.

Government chiefs of Saudi Arabia, Syria and Egypt were meeting in an Arab summit conference in Cairo — and obviously hoping for a deal to bring Jordan's Arab Legion under their unified military command—as the man who led Israel through the war of 1948 delivered his sombre review.

Moral responsibility for a "second round" would fall on the Soviet government because of a continued flow of Red weapons to Egypt, Ben-Gurion said, and on the United States because of its continued refusal of its request for $50,000,000 worth of arms for Israel's defence.

Eden Calms Rebels

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden last night won a last-minute promise of support from Conservative party rebels for today's emergency parliamentary debate on Middle East policy.

He staved off a threatened revolt within his party by promising positive action in the troubled Middle East. He was assured full party backing at least until he completes consultations with the United States on how to meet the Middle East crisis.

Canadians Frozen Out . . . . . . Urged To Take on Debts

Stop U.S. Financial Invasion, Cries Senator

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada is undergoing an invasion of United States capital that can only be termed "economic colonialism" and a halt must be called to it, Senator David Croll declared Tuesday in the Senate.

The outspoken Liberal, one-time Ontario labor minister, said about a third of all investment in Canadian manufacture is by U.S.-controlled companies and "the Canadian investor cannot make an investment in the Canadian subsidiary."

He was not suggesting legislation to control non-Canadian companies in this country. But it was time Canadians were aware of what is happening and, more important, that foreign corporations realize Canadians are aware of the situation and intend to do something about it.

The senator got little support from his colleagues.

Senator Thomas A. Crerar (L, Manitoba), one-time cabinet minister, and Senator Salter Hayden (L, Ontario), a corporation lawyer and businessman, both spoke against discouragement of U.S. investment in Canada.

Senator Crerar said it is in the Canadian interest that there be the friendliest relationship with the U.S., not only for defence but for prosperity.

Senator Hayden said that when "risk capital" is needed to develop the great resources of Canada it cannot be found in this country. He termed "economic nonsense" the preachings of financial writers who warn about the dangers of U.S. capital.

Senator Croll opened the 1½-hour debate on third reading of a bill to incorporate Signature Loan and Finance Co., Canadian subsidiary of an American small loans company which plans to do business in the Maritimes and Quebec. The bill eventually was passed.

Senator Croll, former Commons member for Toronto Spadina, said he was not against the incorporation. But he was shocked to learn 83 per cent of the small loans field in Canada is owned and controlled by two foreign corporations.

This country's financial institutions owed an explanation to Canadians as to why they had not fully occupied the financial field, why they had not gone into the small loans business.

Senator Ralph Horner (PC-Saskatchewan) said the banks are to blame for not offering small loans to the public.

Senator Crerar said thought should be given to "greater control" over small loans companies in Canada. These companies, through advertising enticed Canadians to load themselves with debt.

American foster parents last year adopted 38 of the 72 children adopted by persons outside the province. In 1954, the U.S. figure was 25 out of a total of 57 outside adoptions.

Against a shifting pattern of Middle East events, Ben-Gurion told his parliament the chances of preventing war "are somewhat smaller now" and, if bloodshed comes, the United States and Soviet Russia will share the moral responsibility.

It was his first statement since British Lt.-Gen. Sir John Glubb was removed last Thursday as the commander of Jordan's Arab Legion.

Government chiefs of Saudi Arabia, Syria and Egypt were meeting in an Arab summit conference in Cairo — and obviously hoping for a deal to bring Jordan's Arab Legion under their unified military command—as the man who led Israel through the war of 1948 delivered his sombre review.

Moral responsibility for a "second round" would fall on the Soviet government because of a continued flow of Red weapons to Egypt, Ben-Gurion said, and on the United States because of its continued refusal of its request for $50,000,000 worth of arms for Israel's defence.

Eden Calms Rebels

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden last night won a last-minute promise of support from Conservative party rebels for today's emergency parliamentary debate on Middle East policy.

He staved off a threatened revolt within his party by promising positive action in the troubled Middle East. He was assured full party backing at least until he completes consultations with the United States on how to meet the Middle East crisis.

Huge French Cement Firm Buys Texada Lime Quarry

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Lafarge organization of Paris, France, has purchased Beale Quarries, Ltd., on Texada Island, B.C., it was learned here Tuesday.

The quarry, about 120 miles northwest of here, was purchased from the Olympic Portland Cement Co. of London. It will be used to supply limestone to a proposed $12,500,000 cement plant which will be built by Lafarge in the Vancouver area. Lafarge—the full name is Societe Anonyme des Chaux et Ciments de Lafarge et Teil—is one of the world's largest producers of cement.

Site for the cement plant has not been disclosed, but business circles believe a 50-acre site on the south end of suburban Lulu Island has been set aside for this purpose.

Health Department Queried:

Civil Servants' Breakfasts As Important as Aged Diet?

OTTAWA (CP)—The health department has been asked whether the diet of old-age pensioners is causing as much concern as the breakfasts of federal civil servants.

Stanley Knowles, CCF member for Winnipeg North Centre, seeks the information in a question on the Commons order paper. The inquiry is based on a statement in the 1954-55 annual report of the health department.

The report says the department, in co-operation with the civil service commission, has launched a better breakfast project among civil servants in Ottawa.

The project was started after a survey by nursing counsellors disclosed that many government workers do not eat a breakfast satisfactory to health.

Mr. Knowles said Tuesday he is not opposed to the survey. However, he said, the department apparently doesn't know that many old-age pensioners are unable to have adequate meals at any time of the day.

His question asks for the results of the survey of the breakfast habits of civil servants and whether recommendations from the study will be published.

The Winnipeg CCF member also asks if a survey is being made to determine whether old-age pensioners are eating adequate breakfasts or "adequate meals at any time." He suggests that if no survey is being made one should be undertaken immediately.

Ontario Waters Rising

TORONTO (CP) — Severe lightning and heavy rain struck southern Ontario Tuesday night, prompting a cautious check of rivers that carried the death and destruction of Hurricane Hazel flood waters two years ago.

Flooding was reported in just about every city in the southern part of the province. However, it was said not serious late Tuesday night although 10 bridges in Toronto were reported closed.

There was no indication the flooding would be as severe as the Hazel disaster of 1954 when more than 80 persons were killed and millions of dollars damage was caused.

FT. WAYNE, Ind. (UP)—An elderly cancer victim voluntarily confessed to a 47-year-old murder in Pennsylvania yesterday because he wanted "to get right with the Lord" before he dies.

White-haired Albert Hayes, 75, walked into the police station and told police chief Mitchell Cleveland the fatal shooting of a Turtle Creek, Pa., farmer in 1909 had been on his conscience and that he was dying of cancer.

Stop U.S. Financial Invasion, Cries Senator

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada is undergoing an invasion of United States capital that can only be termed "economic colonialism" and a halt must be called to it, Senator David Croll declared Tuesday in the Senate.

The outspoken Liberal, one-time Ontario labor minister, said about a third of all investment in Canadian manufacture is by U.S.-controlled companies and "the Canadian investor cannot make an investment in the Canadian subsidiary."

He was not suggesting legislation to control non-Canadian companies in this country. But it was time Canadians were aware of what is happening and, more important, that foreign corporations realize Canadians are aware of the situation and intend to do something about it.

The senator got little support from his colleagues.

Senator Thomas A. Crerar (L, Manitoba), one-time cabinet minister, and Senator Salter Hayden (L, Ontario), a corporation lawyer and businessman, both spoke against discouragement of U.S. investment in Canada.

Senator Crerar said it is in the Canadian interest that there be the friendliest relationship with the U.S., not only for defence but for prosperity.

Senator Hayden said that when "risk capital" is needed to develop the great resources of Canada it cannot be found in this country. He termed "economic nonsense" the preachings of financial writers who warn about the dangers of U.S. capital.

Senator Croll opened the 1½-hour debate on third reading of a bill to incorporate Signature Loan and Finance Co., Canadian subsidiary of an American small loans company which plans to do business in the Maritimes and Quebec. The bill eventually was passed.

Senator Croll, former Commons member for Toronto Spadina, said he was not against the incorporation. But he was shocked to learn 83 per cent of the small loans field in Canada is owned and controlled by two foreign corporations.

This country's financial institutions owed an explanation to Canadians as to why they had not fully occupied the financial field, why they had not gone into the small loans business.

Senator Ralph Horner (PC-Saskatchewan) said the banks are to blame for not offering small loans to the public.

Senator Crerar said thought should be given to "greater control" over small loans companies in Canada. These companies, through advertising enticed Canadians to load themselves with debt.
